South Viet Troops Crush Red Battalion

SAIGON. South Viet Nam (AP) — Back in battle after four months of politicking, South Viet Nam's 1st Army division ended three days of hard fighting against the Communists today with the destruction of one Red battalion and the crippling of another.

The Vietnamese operation in South Viet Nam's northernmost province was the first major government operation since the Buddhist revolt virtually sidelined the 1st Division four months ago. Stirred up by Buddhist chaplains, many of the division's officers and men openly supported the antigovernment rebellion in the northern provinces.

After fierce fighting ended almost in the shadow of the frontier with North Viet Nam, field commanders said their troops counted 319 Communists killed, 96 captured and 68 weapons seized. Their own losses were light, they said.

U.S. advisers with the 5,000 to 6,000 Vietnamese troops hailed the battle as a major government victory. Said Marine Maj. N. E. Andersen of Cranston, R.I., "I think we have just about annihilated a full battalion." A Communist battalion has about 500 men.

A captured North Vietnamese captain told interrogators the Communists were lured into the fight because they thought the 1st Division could muster no more than a battalion of infantrymen and 15 pieces of armor because of the political dissension.

The Communist force of about 1,000 men was composed of North Vietnamese army regulars and Viet Cong guerrillas and was led by North Vietnamese officers. Col. Joffre Boston of Falls Church, Va., senior adviser to the 1st Division, said the crippled battalion was the newly identified 814th which has been in Viet Nam only about a month.

The 1st Division troops were supported by Vietnamese marines and U.S. and Vietnamese planes.

Sporadic firing continued today in the rice paddies, small hamlets and brushy spots of high ground, but it was only a small sample of the withering fire both sides had been throwing six miles north of Quang Tri city. The battleground was less than 20 miles from the 17th Parallel frontier with North Viet Nam.

Only Wednesday Premier Nguyen Cao Ky sent about 300 troops into Quang Tri to quell pockets of the rebellion that had spread out from nearby Hue.

Lingering Buddhist resistance at Saigon's Buddhist Institute collapsed today when Ky sent a battalion of rangers and 100 plainclothesmen into the antigovernment stronghold.

Without firing a shot, the government forces occupied the dusty compound just as about 100 monks and nuns and 300 youths and old women were breakfasting. The troops hustled off scores of draft-age youths for military service, took the unprotesting monks to police headquarters for identity checks and seized a 19-year-old suspected of killing a policeman Saturday. The government had blockaded the compound after the killing.

Not a major figure in the Buddhist political movement was in the area, but at a Saigon clinic the extremist leader, Thich Tri Quang, continued his antigovernment fast for the 16th day. A visit to his room by moderate monks of the Unified Buddhist Church failed to end his protest.

The "Screaming Eagles" of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division and skytroopers of the U.S. 1st cavalry, Airmobile, Division kept up their hunt for a combined force of North Vietnamese regulars and hard-core Viet Cong for the fourth day on the central coast 15 miles north of Tuy Hoa.

The action dwindled to sporadic firing, but the U.S. Command reported that 321 Communists had been killed since the battle began Monday. This included 49 Reds killed by rockets and machinegun fire from U.S. helicopters Wednesday.

Other evidence of increased government military activity came in a report that Vietnamese forces killed 43 Viet Cong on the ground and approximately 50 more from the air in fighting Wednesday near the coastal town of Mo Duc, 300 miles northeast of Saigon. Government casualties were reported light.

No other new major ground action was reported in South Viet Nam, but U.S. Air Force B52 bombers struck before dawn in Tay Ninh Province near the Cambodian frontier 60 miles northwest of Saigon. This so-called Zone C has long been a Communist stronghold.

Elsewhere in the south, U.S. and Vietnamese pilots flew 560 combat sorties in support of ground troops.

U.S. Navy and Air Force jets flew 65 multiplane missions against North Viet Nam

Wednesday, concentrating for the second day in a row on fuel storage areas 35 to 40 miles north of the capital, Hanoi.

A company of U.S. Marines tackled an unusual assignment. Helicopters lifted them to an abandoned Special Forces camp near the Laotian frontier where a large supply of ammunition had been located a week ago. The Leathernecks destroyed the cache within an hour and a half, then flew back to their base.

The U.S. Command reported 79 Americans killed in combat last week, compared with 142 the week before. This brought the unofficial roll of American dead since the beginning of the year to 2,035. There were 567 wounded and eight missing or captured compared with 741 wounded and one missing the week before.

Schweiker Hits Present Draft Setup

As Antiquated As 'Horse, Buggy In Jet Age,' He Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — A member of a House committee examining the military draft charged today that methods used by the Selective Service System are as antiquated as a "horse and buggy in a jet age."

The comments of Rep. Richard S. Schweiker, R-Pa., came after Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey told the Armed Services Committee he opposes a centralized computer system to select young men for induction.

Schweiker described Hershey's opposition as a "fetish." The committee member advocated "national standards and a national pool of registrants," claiming present procedures "are way behind times."

"We have no national standards now," he said in an interview. "We have 4,000 individual boards, each determining its own policy of who will be drafted and who will be deferred."

"We should have a national pool. Some boards are drafting fathers, and some are not," Schweiker said.

He criticized as inadequate the 10 days given a registrant to appeal his classification and said "certainly this should be extended to at least 30 days."

Hershey, draft director for 25 years, also told the committee Wednesday he opposes any lottery system for selecting draft-

Parade Start At Wellsville Set Right At 7

The Wellsville volunteer firemen's annual homecoming parade Friday will begin promptly at 7 p. m. with a blast from the fire siren at the station.

Frank Fusco, parade marshal, reminded all units participating they are to be in the line of march prior to this, since the parade will not be delayed.

The parade is one of the largest of its kind in the area. More than 65 units, including 50 fire units, will participate.

The parade will form on Broadway, move down Main St. to 15th St., turn right to Commerce and then move up to 13th St. to the park where the carnival is located.

All units must remain in line of march to the park or be disqualified for prizes, Fusco said.

The parade will feature six high school bands, several floats, clown units and marching groups.

Miss Wellsville Jaycee, Miss Columbiana County Junior Miss and Miss Columbiana County will ride in open convertibles in the parade.

The parade will be led by the Wellsville High School Band and city officials in open cars. There will be no judges' stand this year. The judges instead will mingle with the crowd and "score" the units from the sidewalk. This was done to prevent units from halting in front of the judges stand to perform, thereby delaying the units behind them, officials explained.

At Meeting Wednesday Klondyke Group Gets Briefing On School Cutbacks

Planned cutbacks in the East Liverpool school system, including the proposed closing of Klondyke School, were outlined during a meeting of the Board of Education with a delegation of more than 40 residents of the Klondyke area Wednesday night at the high school auditorium.

The board had planned to act on the closing of the school at its regular meeting June 6, but delayed the action after a delegation of residents protested the move. The board then agreed to the meeting last night.

Under the proposal, the students from Klondyke would be transferred to Neville School.

THE PARENTS cited the safety factor involved, pointing out their children would be required to cross the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks and walk along Harvey Ave., which was termed a "speedway."

Supt. Paul Blair said it is necessary to make cutbacks in the system to meet salary increases granted teachers which will amount to approximately $180,000 a year.

By closing Klondyke, the board could save approximately $19,591 a year, he explained.

During the two-hour session, Blair also revealed other proposed cutbacks in the system and said that the full extent will be made public in the near future.

He said that the closing of the school is only one of 25 phases to be curtailed and spoke of cuts in the teaching staff, transportation, purchase of books, repairs and other aspects of the curriculum.

Klondyke, one of the smallest schools in the system, is the most costly to operate, the superintendent said, pointing to the need for four teachers and a custodian for less than 100 pupils. The system is now 11 teachers over the total credited by the state for foundation funds. By utilizing the teachers from Klondyke in other schools, this would mean the board would not have to hire new teachers in some of the positions open, he remarked.

BLAIR GAVE the delegation a breakdown of the costs of operating the building. He pointed out that the closing probably will be made by next year anyway, since the new elementary buildings should be completed in 12 to 18 months once ground is broken.

The board plans to save $10,000 alone by not purchasing any new textbooks the coming term.

Draw Carbines, March Down Street Police Guard Shaky Truce After Rioting In Florida

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A precarious peace enforced by steel-helmeted riot police settled on Pompano Beach's Negro district today after a day of violence and fear.

Despite a truce that was supposed to keep Negroes off the streets, more than 200 gathered in bands Wednesday night, pitching bottles and jeering at police.

When persuasion failed to break up the groups, police put on riot helmets, drew carbines and marched down the sidewalks of the main street in formation.

The bands, who the night before had showered police with rocks and bottles, broke and ran into the side streets as the officers advanced.

When some tried to turn back, the riot squad flanked around and marched the length of the street again.

Within an hour the sidewalks were deserted. No arrests were made. The only damage was a shattered window on a patrol car.

Hours before, Negro leaders had tried to arrange a truce between the rioters, who rocked the district with sporadic violence for 24 hours, and the 150 or more officers who had been organized to stop them.

The leaders said they would clear the streets if the police would cut down the number of patrols. Police agreed and began pulling out units around dusk.

For several hours, the truce seemed to work and only a few persons were on the streets.

Then the trouble-makers, mostly youths, began congregating in knots in the shadows of the dimly lit street. About 50 gathered opposite the market that has been the focal point of the violence before they were broken up.

It was at this market that the white owner, Arthur Marks, 42, was alleged to have slapped a 10-year-old boy Tuesday morning. Stories of the alleged incident inflamed the 3,000 Negroes living in the neighborhood and violence broke out that night, spilling over into Wednesday.

Marks was charged with as-

How To Make Most Of Volunteering

This is the second in a series that tells what every young man should know about his prospects for service in the armed forces.

By ELTON FAY

There is an alternative to being drafted — you can volunteer.

Unless you have volunteered, your draft board can put the finger on you at any time from age 18½ through 25.

As a volunteer, you will have the same six-year total military obligation as a draftee, but your active duty may range from a few months to six years. And,

1ST LT. CHARLES O. WILLIAMS
Viet Hero Awarded Medal Of Honor

The Shy Hero Lieutenant Gets Medal Of Honor

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's newest Medal of Honor winner is a shy, quiet 32-year-old 1st lieutenant who says he didn't know he was being a hero during that long night last year in South Viet Nam.

"I had a mission to perform — and I did it," recalled Charles O. Williams, a wearer of the green beret of the Army Special Forces. "The thought that I was being a hero didn't occur to me. I just wanted to protect my men."

Williams took command of his detachment after his commanding officer was wounded during a fierce night-long battle while a Viet Cong regiment was attempting to overrun the special forces outpost at Dong Xoai on June 9-10, 1965.

Despite several wounds, Williams directed defense operations, stabilized his unit's position and encouraged his troops to hold out against the attackers. At the time, he was executive officer of the A detachment, 5th Special Forces Group.

He was ordered back to the United States last February after a year's service in Viet Nam.

In an exclusive interview in advance of being awarded the nation's highest honor today by President Johnson at a White House ceremony, Williams said some signs of that night in Viet Nam are still with him.

"I still have some nerve damage," he said, "and a machine gun bullet caught me here" — he pointed to a neatly sutured eight-inch scar on his right forearm. "I was lucky though," Williams added with a grimace. "It only grazed my arm. Otherwise I might have lost it."

There are other signs, too, of that night in Viet Nam.

Stocky and fair-skinned, Williams looks older than his 32 years. He doesn't want to go back to Viet Nam.

"I'll probably be going back some day," the professional soldier said. "I can't say I want to go — I've got a family and a life back here — but if I'm told to go I will."

Williams said he has no regrets whatsoever about his service in Southeast Asia. "There is a real big job to do and it was my job to do it to the best of my ability."

"We're fighting a just cause over there," he said. "The commies have to be stopped somewhere."

Despite the antiwar criticism back home, he said, "Things are going real fine over there. Morale is high."

Williams, born Sept. 17, 1933 in Charleston, S.C., enlisted in the Army in 1953, two years after finishing high school.

Eleven years later he graduated from officer candidate school at Ft. Benning, Ga. "They called me 'pop' there,"

Richard Roach Victim Local Resident Killed On Patrol In Viet Fighting

A 19-year-old East Liverpool youth, on detached duty from the Navy to the Marines, was killed in action in Viet Nam Tuesday.

The family of Navy Hospital Corpsman Richard Roach was notified Wednesday afternoon of his death. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Haney of 700 Riley Ave. and husband of Mrs. Mary Birch Roach of Baxter Ave.

Navy officials from Youngstown informed the family the youth was shot while on a reconnaissance patrol near Phuocbia. He was hit in the chest by a Viet Cong bullet. He was the only corpsman with the 13-man Marine unit.

Although in the Navy, Roach had been serving with the Fleet Marines and wearing a Marine uniform.

His sister, Navy Corpsman Nancy Lorraine Roach, was notified of his death while on duty at Bainbridge, Md. She immediately flew home to join the family.

Roach attended East Liverpool High School. He joined the Navy in September 1963.

He had been overseas since December, having been married two months before leaving for Viet Nam.

He also is survived by an-

The family was told the body will be shipped home in a week to 10 days. A full military funeral is planned.

Political Phase Called Better U.S. Military Situation In Viet Seen Improving

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Richard B. Russell said today the U.S. military situation in Viet Nam is improving and political stability in Saigon is "a great deal better than it was six weeks ago."

Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said "We are not out of the woods yet" but significant military progress is being made against the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese.

"This progress has been made despite the tragic handicap of political dissension behind the lines," the Georgia Democrat said. "But I believe that latter situation is a great deal better than it was six weeks ago."

In other developments relating to Viet Nam:

—The Army disclosed it is converting 11 World War II oil tankers into floating electrical generating plants. When docked in Viet Nam, the electricity the ships generate will be relayed to local power stations. The Army said each ship, drawing on its own 150,000-barrel oil capacity, can produce power around the clock for about two years without refueling.

—Army medical researchers reported tests have disclosed a drug long used in treating leprosy also can be used to combat malaria, which afflicted 1,801 U.S. soldiers in Viet Nam last year. Officials said the drug.

Hays 'Optimistic' After Talk With LBJ

Increased optimism over the situation in Southeast Asia was expressed by Rep. Wayne L. Hays after he and 29 other congressmen conferred at the White House Wednesday night with President Johnson.

The 18th District congressman hastened to explain that he doesn't expect the Viet Nam fighting to end overnight, but at the same time doesn't believe that it will drag on for years, as so many fear.

Hays said two key points stood out following last night's exchange of views by the President and the 30 legislators who have visited the Viet Nam area in recent months.

White Man Shot, Negro Leader Held

Bomb Explodes Near Rights Office At Canton, Miss.

BENTON, Miss. (AP) — The Mississippi march to promote Negro voter registration fanned out on several fronts today following reports of another gunfire-explosive incident Wednesday night.

At Canton, which is in the line of march, Police Chief Dan Thompson said a bomb went off near civil rights headquarters Wednesday night.

A white man was shot, and a Negro leader, C. O. Chinn, was arrested, Thompson said.

The white man was not identified, nor was the extent of his injury available.

Canton is about 25 miles southeast of this march headquarters.

Plans for a rally Friday in Philadelphia, Miss., where three civil rights workers were slain three years ago, occupied the time and energies of most march leaders.

For the rank and file, headed down Miss. 16, Canton — site of several civil rights struggles in the past — loomed just ahead.

Lawyers sought swift court action on a petition for a federal injunction to forbid interference with the rally in Philadelphia, a Ku Klux Klan stronghold.

The march will supply about 75 persons for the Philadelphia rally. They will be handpicked for their devotion to the principle of nonviolence and driven to the town in autos. Philadelphia is about 70 miles east of Benton.

Hosea Williams, a march leader, said federal court also was asked to order police protection for the rally, to be led by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., and Floyd B. McKissick.

King heads the Southern Christian Leadership Conference. McKissick directs the Congress of Racial Equality. Both are considered "moderate" organizations.

Williams said Stokely Carmichael, chief of the militant Stu-

3 Are Injured As Car Upsets During Chase

A Lisbon woman and her child and a passenger in her car were hospitalized when the vehicle overturned as she was chasing a hit-skip driver on Route 172, west of Route 30, Wednesday at 9:20 p. m.

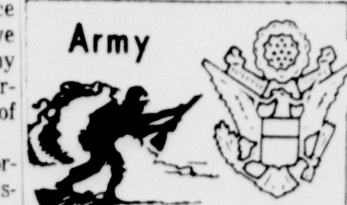

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Mrs. Judith M. Wolf, 18, of 429 N. Market St., Lisbon, was headed west on Route 172, two-tenths a mile west of Route 30, when her car was sideswiped by another operated by Willis Dotson, 18, of 304 Caldwell Ave., Lisbon.

Dotson hit the woman's car as he was attempting to pass. He failed to halt at the scene of the accident and Mrs. Wolfe attempted to catch him.

About a mile on from the scene, Mrs. Wolf lost control of

Midland Council Plans Survey Of Fire Alarm Setup

A survey of the fire alarm system in line with possible replacement was authorized by Midland Council Wednesday night following rejection by the Pennsylvania Bell Telephone Co. of a borough claim for money paid firemen for answering false alarms due to telephone line trouble.

Joseph Hibbard, chairman of the Council fire committee, reported the telephone firm has rejected the claim of $266 for payment of wages to firemen who answered the recent false alarms which were triggered accidentally during the switch-over to operations at the new Midland office of the utility.

Bell officials said under Public Utility Commission regulations they are forbidden to pay money to the public for anything that happens as a result of a mistake on their part, such as alarms going off when wires are crossed.

THE TELEPHONE company further stated that in its estimation the situation is caused by old lines on the fire alarm system.

Fire Chief Vincent D'Itri reported the cables are underground and during a rainstorm they could short out, causing the fire whistle to blow.

Council asked D'Itri to compile a list of requirements which should be met in the installation of new lines.

Bell officials said their cooperation in helping to relieve the situation as far as materials are concerned would be unlimited.

Granville Kester, vice president of Michael Baker Jr., Inc., borough engineer, was given the authority to draw up specifications for portable radio units for the use of the police department.

Kester advised that should Council approve the purchase of four of the units to replace the eight call boxes now in use, the $80 monthly call box rental charge would terminate within 30 days.

THE BOROUGH secretary was instructed to prepare a letter of commendation to Police Chief Ed Steff and members of his department for "their excellent work" in apprehending the two men involved in the recent robbery at Riviera Lanes.

Council remarked that if the police department had had the portable radio units at the time of the robbery, the job may have been completed in an even shorter length of time.

Raymond Presutti, chairman of the traffic committee, said that to date no word has been received as to whether the Crucible Steel Co. plans to help alleviate the traffic problems in the borough. However, Joseph Scalise, personnel relations manager, has advised that a report will be forthcoming prior to the next council meeting.

Council approved Steff's trip to the annual convention of police chiefs at York, Pa., July 24-28 and D'Itri's trip to the annual fire chiefs convention July 18-22 at Elmira, N. Y.

Mayor Eli G. Corak, Solicitor Frank A. Suffoletta, Treasurer Joe E. Spanik, Assistant Secretary Ed Cilli and members of Council will attend the Pennsylvania State Association of Boroughs Conference Sunday through next Wednesday at the Penn - Sheraton Hotel in Pittsburgh.

Peter Vuckovich, chairman of the building committee, reported that work has been completed satisfactorily on the borough building roof at a cost of $686 by the Richard Sherin Roofing Co. of Beaver.

It was reported that Midland Girl Scout Troop 186, under the leadership of Mrs. James Green, sent the borough a note of thanks for the use of the Lions pavilion during the recent pioneer training season.

STUDY BY the borough engineer relative to the proposed widening of 10th St. and the installation of a storm drain in Lincoln Park were recommended by Council.

Vuckovich reported that needed improvements in the park sanitary stations will be completed before the Fourth of July celebrations.

Cilli reported that a letter had been addressed to the Duquesne Light Co. authorizing installation of lights at Hillcrest Manor and at the 1st and 7th St. playgrounds.

William J. Vinovich Sr., council president and chairman of the Veterans Pool Committee, announced senior lifesaving instructions will be given the week of July 11 and Junior instructions the week of July 18 at the pool.

He pointed out adult swimming Tuesdays and Thursdays from 9 to 11 p. m. is for those age 21 or over.

It was reported that the budget has been completed and will be approved during the next meeting July 13 at 8 p. m. at the borough building.

Kapp Family Attends Rally Of Witnesses

Five members of the Roy Kapp family of Ross Meadows are attending the five-day district assembly of Jehovah Witnesses at Toronto, Canada, which began Wednesday.

Final plans for the local participation in the event were made this week during a meeting of the local congregation.

Auto Lots Open Again With Lining Finished

Municipal parking lots were being opened again today in rapid succession as street department crews completed the annual job of painting new lines to mark off the spaces, Safety Service Director Robert E. Vo-drey said.

Parking was banned on all the lots, effective at 5 this morning, to allow the work to be done rapidly. But as the job was finished on each site and the paint dried, the lot was thrown open to parking again.

The Ceramic Lot on E. 4th St., the city's largest, was open again before 9:30 a. m. Shortly afterward, parking resumed on the lot on the north side of W. 6th St. between the Diamond and Jackson St. Then work began on the W. 6th St. lot adjoining City Hall.

The View From Gettysburg

It never was clear why Dwight D. Eisenhower chose his last few days in the White House to warn his countrymen about the "military-industrial complex."

In what he referred to as "leave-taking and farewell address," he spoke pointedly about the "grave implications" of an immense military establishment and a large arms industry.

He said on Jan. 17, 1961:

"We must guard against the acquisition of unwarranted influence by the military-industrial complex."

He said the potential for a disastrous rise of misplaced power existed in the combination. He said domination of the nation's intellectuals by federal employment and domination of government, in turn, by a "scientific-technological elite" threatened the American people.

WHY DID this man who had been a top member of the military establishment, a close-up observer of the military-industrial complex and a beneficiary of its power in World War II go out of his way to sing such a dolorous swan song? Did he know something other people didn't know?

It would be helpful now if the general reviewed his remarks of five and a half years ago.

The military-industrial complex is booming. The scientific-technological elite never had it so good.

Billions are forthcoming on demand for a vast military excursion into Southeast Asia, for new and deadlier weapons of war, for the endless job of policing the world wherever the federal government sees a suspicious situation developing.

Talk is being heard in Washington about cutting back on other projects to beef up the war effort—the old refrain: "Doncha know there's a war on, mister?"

AN UNDECLARED war on the other side of the earth is draining billions out of the national economy.

The scientific-technological elite's project of putting men on the moon before the Russians got there is draining billions out of the economy for something that cannot return any part of its costs.

The awful prediction by the late George Orwell in "1984" that superstates would be fighting wars in places nobody ever heard of before for reasons nobody understood has come true. The United States is actually doing it.

Institutions of higher learning are being urged to turn out more mental wizards to solve scientific problems. Teachers are scrambling for federal grants.

How do things look today from the farm outside Gettysburg, Gen. Eisenhower? About the same as they looked from the White House five and a half years ago?

A Real Red-Letter Day

The long-discussed freedom of information bill passed the House Monday by a 307-0 vote.

Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., has fought a hard battle to open public records to U.S. citizens with valid reasons for wanting to look at them. He has been fighting 10 years.

The crux of his fight was to establish once and for all that just being a citizen was a valid reason to look at a public record.

Instead of leaving disclosure of records to the whims of bureaucrats, Rep. Moss wanted all records to be made available, except those which could not be thrown open for inspection because of national security.

This was a startling idea—a revolutionary idea. But Rep. Moss is a revolutionary politician, in the sense that he does not feel himself bound by customs and traditions of secrecy that make it possible for public officials to conceal what they did not want to reveal. He keeps fighting.

Beneath The Robes

WASHINGTON

Chief Justice Earl Warren has said a man's early life could not but affect his views on the court, which means the nine Supreme Court justices don't always reach their conclusions by sheer legal reasoning, if there is such a thing.

Behind the decisions, although intended for the welfare of the nation, is the humanness of the men: Their prejudices, earlier experiences, idealism, their individual sense of justice, and sometimes timidity, caution, or strength of will which has made this one of the most fascinating courts.

The term which ended Monday provided some examples, including statements by some of the justices that some of the other justices were deciding more on private feelings than good law.

THIS MONTH a majority of the justices, with Warren reading the opinion, banned forced confessions by police from criminal suspects. The four dissenters were Justices John M. Harlan, Potter Stewart, Byron R. White and Tom C. Clark.

All four in their time had had a hand in dealing with criminal cases. Harlan and Stewart had been federal judges; Clark had been attorney general of the United States; White had been a deputy attorney general.

But none of the nine had the firsthand experience of Warren in prosecuting criminal cases. He had been a district attorney in California.

Harlan flushed, pounded the bench, said this was "new doctrine and don't be fooled by it." He called it a hazardous experiment at a time when the crime rate was going up.

And White warned rapists and killers would be freed to rape and kill again.

Great Day Coming!

Whatever happens in the current campaign to make men use hair dye as casually as their wives use it will be too late for me.

But I am rooting for the campaign's success.

I want to believe that inside the span of another generation men who lose their hair will replace it routinely with wigs and no one will laugh.

I want to believe that men whose hair turns gray will touch it up as casually as women now conceal the ravages of time.

To tell the whole truth, I want to believe that women, themselves, will be as universally reconciled to the use of hair dye and wigs as they already are to the use of lipstick and other "beauty aids."

There can be no valid defense of naturalness. The proposition fell apart when human beings began to use soap to overcome what is "natural."

Any homo sapiens who brushes his teeth or combs his hair has accepted the basic idea that it is morally defensible to improve on nature.

If a person wears glasses to improve his vision, dentures to improve his chewing ability, soap to cleanse himself, or any kind of cosmetics he has accepted the principle that man is subject to physical improvement through his own ingenuity.

Women accepted this long ago, because they had stronger motivation toward improvement than the more perfect sex. All that is happen-

Newspapers are just one of the beneficiaries of his latest victory.

In general, the beneficiary is popular government. It has been a never-ending struggle to keep it responsive to people. Its instrumentalities and records continually have been subject to restrictions imposed by members of The Establishment.

These people feel an inexorable urge to create and guard secrets, to conceal things from view, to devise little procedures and operations of their very own, frequently at variance with the law.

The fight to hold them responsible to the people never ends. It's a great day for popular government when The Establishment doesn't win. When it loses, that's a red-letter day.

The Establishment has just lost one of its biggest battles.

By James Marlow

A week later the court decided that police, when they arrested a drunken driving suspect, could take a sample of his blood to test whether he was really drunk.

This time the majority was made up of Harlan, White, Stewart, Clark and Justice William J. Brennan Jr., who had voted a week before against permitting forced confessions. His switch made this decision possible. Warren was against it.

It required some very thin legal reasoning since the court in one case said a forced confession violates the Fifth Amendment's guarantee against self-incrimination but taking blood from a man against his will doesn't.

Justice Hugo L. Black, at 80 the oldest man on the court, was on it and agreed to the decisions when the Georgia poll tax was upheld in 1937 and the Virginia poll tax was upheld in 1951.

THIS YEAR the court reversed all that, outlawing the poll tax in Virginia and, in effect, in every other state. This was too much for Black who stuck to his earlier opinions and tried to analyze his colleagues for seeing it differently now.

"I can only conclude that the primary, controlling, predominate, if not the exclusive, reason for declaring the Virginia law unconstitutional is the court's deep-seated hostility and antagonism to making payment of a tax a prerequisite to voting."

And Harlan, another dissenter, thought the tax problem should be settled by politicians, not by judges. He said the decision amounted to "freezing into the Constitution the political views of the moment."

By Truman Twill

ing now is a catch-up flurry to give men the same options women have developed.

With the help of the advertising business, which can sell anything if the price is right, equality of the sexes will be achieved in such things as dyed hair, wigs, sagging muscle control, wrinkle eradication and facial makeup.

It will be too late for us old, battered, scarred and disenchanted walruses, but it is coming as sure as World War III.

No one is going to hold it against the male of tomorrow for touching up his hair, replacing it with a wig if it falls out, putting roses into his cheeks, brightening the eyes and corseting the midriff.

It ultimately is going to be conceded that men have the same rights and obligations in this regard as women, who no longer are of questionable repute if they look 15 years younger than their age.

The American male frequently looks 15 years older than he is because he wears himself out trying to keep up with women who not only look but feel 15 years younger.

I only wish I could be around to see the equalization — in an auburn wig, elevator shoes, eye shadow, roses in my cheeks and the blush of youth lighting me up like a new tavern.

There's a great day coming, fellas. Hang in there. Keep breathing in and out.

Sante Fe, New Mexico, the oldest seat of government in the United States, was founded by the Spanish in 1609-10.

UE Battle For Dollars Told

By Victor Riesel

Through the portals of the graceful old Vanderbilt mansion over on East 51st St. now pass the toughest of the old left — the leaders and organizers of a militant, mass picketing union known as the UE (United Electrical Workers).

If only the ancient walls could talk of their proletarian tenants, the full story of the left-wing quarrel over the hoarding of a million dollars in assets could be told.

Actually, the story of a bitter battle over money surfaced just a bit for a few minutes at the recent convention of this union, which was propelled from the labor movement years ago because it followed the Moscow line. This union, too, was declared persona non grata at an atomic laboratory years ago.

Its actual machine boss is the general secretary - treasurer, James Joseph Matles, who has been accused at least three times before a congressional committee of being Communist.

Victor Riesel

ANYONE INTERESTED in further details of this hard-core disciplinarian can find them in the U. S. District Court's Civil Docket No. 13121, which describes efforts made to deport him.

There is quite some literature on this fellow's pro-Communist militancy, but his dedication to capitalist American dollars is now recorded for the first time.

This UE, despite its turbulent history, has accumulated not only the old Vanderbilt mansion, but more than a million dollars in somewhat liquid assets. Also, it has an annual cash flow of more than $1.25 million.

All this was duly reported to the UE's 31st international convention held at Pittsburgh Hilton Hotel the other week. (Among the features of the gathering was a snack cruise aboard something called the Party Liner.)

Then came a resolution which raised the salaries of the international representatives from $135 to $160 a week.

Also, the field organizers' pay was to be hiked from $125 to $145 weekly. By today's standards, this is coolie pay.

AT THIS POINT an organizer from the Boston area — "Rusty" — got up and shouted it all was just not enough. "Here," said "Rusty," "The delegates are shedding tears about the poor worker and forgetting that the people who work for the union are starving."

Those who were waiting for "Rusty" applauded when he said that there just must be more pay for the UE field men and as an example, proffered the fact that he could not exist if his wife were not doing hair dressing work in their basement.

Grim, scowling, Jim Matles, veteran of Communist caucuses since time immemorial, grabbed the mike and indicated how shocked he was that his organizers should think so much of money.

"There is a difference between working in the shop while hating every minute of it," said the old leftist, "and working for the national union and doing work you love and enjoy. I look forward to going to work for the union each day. I'm grateful that the delegates continue to elect me year after year. I'm sure "Rusty" feels the same way."

"Rusty" did not.

"Don't quote me, Matles," "Rusty" roared from his seat.

Then came Chief International Representative Louis Kaplan. He is a UE veteran of a hundred labor battles in a score of cities, a thunderer and specialist in mass picketing. He, too, is a big man in the literature of the government committees.

AT THAT MOMENT he was directing a strike against the Kennedy Valve Manufacturing Co. in Elmira, N.Y.

It was a typical UE - Kaplan operation — mass pickets, shouts at the helmeted police, lots of shoving, pickets throwing themselves in front of cars.

From the convention floor, Kaplan shouted that Matles was wrong in saying that union organizers were getting $3.60 and $4 an hour. They worked 16 and 17 hours a day.

The union "reps" and organizers are making less than the workers in the shops, Kaplan shouted, drowning out Matles.

"Matles, you're full of — and playing hero for the delegates," roared Kaplan.

Matles ran for the mike. The two tough men of the old left were eyeball to eyeball.

Red-faced, old Albert (Fitz) Fitzgerald got between the two screaming men.

Delegates all over the convention floor were on their feet "hollering" for recognition.

Fitz finally got order.

THE RESOLUTION passed. "Rusty" and Louis and their comrades walked out.

Later a resolution which would have made it mandatory for the UE locals to have CPAs audit their books quarterly was defeated.

Otherwise, the convention was par for the left-wing course: the President of the U.S.; General Electric, Westinghouse, profits and the U.S. position in Viet Nam were decrified.

And the $11,800 - a - year Jim Matles returned to the quiet of the mansion of a once-glittering capitalism, now better known as the UE counting house.

Odd Facts

The two most famous whirlpools in the Old World are Charybdis, between Sicily and Italy, and Maelstrom, off the coast of Norway. Probably the most famous in the New World is the whirlpool at Niagara.

To distinguish between a crow and a raven requires close examination. The raven is larger and the feathers on its throat are longer, narrower and more pointed than those on the crow, which are short and rounded.

The 10 longest rivers in the world are, in order: The Nile, Amazon, Missouri - Mississippi, Ob, Yangtze Kiang, Amur, Congo, Lena Yenisei and the Hwang-Ho (Yellow).

DeGaulle's Goal

By David Lawrence

Thoughts Offered On Moscow Trip

Gen. De Gaulle's trip to Moscow cannot be brushed off as just a desire to bolster his position as an international figure. Nor can this mission be regarded as necessary at variance with the policies of the United States merely because the French president previously has been requesting the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to withdraw its forces from France. The Soviets are probably just as puzzled as the rest of the world as to what is really behind the De Gaulle mission.

Gen. De Gaulle's campaign David Lawrence to reconstruct Europe is rooted in the belief that he can win the confidence of the Soviet government and, in the end, bring about better relations between the East and West than the United States could at this time.

The basic and underlying concept of the French president's philosophy is that the United States, despite its altruism and military help, cannot be accepted as the boss or supervisor or even the guardian of Europe, and that the responsibility for the rebuilding of Europe must be undertaken by Europeans themselves. Many Americans espouse the same principle.

The French president is not likely to reveal all of his strategy at this time, but his immediate objective is to bring about a better understanding between the Communist-bloc countries in Eastern Europe and the powerful nations of Western Europe. He is concerned not merely with trade relationships but, with closer ties in other ways.

HIS THEORY is that Communist countries like Poland, Romania, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria and Hungary are more likely to be emancipated or at least made less dependent on Soviet rule by tying up with France and eventually all of Western Europe than by maintaining the status quo.

While Gen. De Gaulle is talking about a united Europe, he does not foresee a United States of Europe. He wants the individual powers — like France — to remain masters of their own destiny. Even with a better understanding between Moscow and Paris, it's not likely that this will solve the problem of reunification of Germany.

Gen. De Gaulle feels that, for the moment, very little can be done to unite the two German governments. He believes it is more important first to bring into a closer relationship the Communist countries of Eastern Europe and the free countries of Western Europe.

Related to all this, naturally, is the question of what part the United States shall play in defending Europe in future emergencies. Gen. De Gaulle is taking for granted that the United States will, in its own interests, always have a direct concern for Europe and will come to the aid of Western Europe with nuclear weapons if necessary.

HIS IDEA is that the time has arrived to concentrate on Europe for the Europeans in both a political and economic sense and that a new alliance can be forced in Europe with Russia, Great Britain and France.

This isn't a new concept, as France has from time to time played ball with Moscow, though the last experience was tragic. Stalin in the 1930's had given every impression that he was on the side of Western Europe, but when Hitler invaded Poland in September 1939, Russia did likewise and, in effect, divided Poland with the Nazi dictator. It was only when Hitler attacked Russia in June 1941 that Stalin turned his armies to the Western side in a new alliance.

The Russians are intrigued with Gen. De Gaulle's mission and gave him a big parade in Moscow. There is every indication that the Soviets will, at any rate, appear to be getting closer to the French president. The Soviet leaders are hopeful of driving a wedge between Western Europe and the United States.

IT MAY BE that some minor agreements will emerge from the De Gaulle mission — such as a plan to co-operate in the exploration of space but, basically, the trip has more to do with the opening of trade with the eastern-bloc countries — something the United States has been considering, too — than with the formation immediately or any new alliance.

diamino-diphenylsulfone, reduces by half the number of men stricken by malaria.

Maj. Gen. Roy Lasseter Jr., deputy assistant chief of staff for intelligence, told the House Appropriations Committee in testimony made public today that the only way to halt the movement of Communist troops, arms and ammunition into South Viet Nam is to seize the ground over which it moves.

Perhaps significantly, Russell said in an interview that he can't talk about a possible escalation of the U.S. military effort forecast in the Senate Wednesday by Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y.

Urging a reciprocal reduction in hostilities, Javits said President Johnson had provided "the rationale for the further escalation of the conflict." He alluded to Johnson's statement Saturday that the United States may have to step up operations in the south and raise the cost of aggression in the north.

There is general belief among members of Congress that the war is going to get hotter. Some feel that escalation may come while members are scattered on an Independence Day vacation and critics lack a ready-made forum in Washington.

Russell said he never has had much hope that the Communists will agree to unconditional negotiations. He said he continues to believe that the United States must push on to a military victory.

"I don't see anything else but to win unless we intend to reverse our entire foreign policy and retreat to fortress America," he said.

He said he is satisfied that President Johnson is holding firmly to the policy of punishing the aggressor until his will to fight is destroyed.

"This involves some dangerous risks and some hard fighting," Russell said. "We know that there is a substantial contingent of well-trained North Vietnamese troops in South Viet Nam."

"But we are making inroads on their supplies and equipment. It is easy for them to slip through our air blockade but not so easy to get heavy equipment through. We are making it difficult for the Viet Cong to get food and the number of defections of hungry men, both in the officer corps and the ranks, is increasing."

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., called today for greater civilian efforts to rebuild South Viet Nam.

In the text of his maiden Senate Speech, Griffin said a recent visit to Viet Nam as a House member — before his appointment to the Senate — had convinced him "the war cannot, and will not, be won merely by dropping bombs or by taking over Viet Cong territory."

He proposed establishing an executive service corps to apply American business expertise to Saigon's problems, expert auditing and investigation of the U.S. aid program there, greater incentives to attract government personnel to Viet Nam service and expansion of programs for rural Vietnamese.

her car on a curve. It overturned and came to rest on its roof in a field.

The mishap was near the Ernest Tritton farm about a half-mile east of the Columbiana County Home.

Officers said Dotson was picked up later and charged with leaving the scene of an accident.

Mrs. Wolf and Wanda K. Chapman, 23, of 620 W. Lincoln Way, Lisbon, a passenger, were admitted to Salem City Hospital with multiple lacerations and abrasions. Mrs. Wolf's infant son, Bruce, 15 months, suffered a possible concussion. He also was admitted.

Gregory Hamadock, 19, of Elizabeth, Pa., escaped injury when his car sheared off a utility pole along Route 7, eight-tenths a mile south of Rogers at 5:30 a. m. today.

Officers said he was headed north when he apparently fell asleep at the wheel. The car went left of center, knocked down a road marker sign and sheared off the telephone pole.

Schools

unless absolutely necessary, the parents were told.

Relative to the safety factor, Blair said he has met with Mayor George Willshaw, who promised adequate adult crossing guard supervision along Harvey Ave.

Blair said that he has made arrangements to have the children transported to Neville by school bus if the parents are willing to bear the cost, which he said would be about 8 cents per trip. If the parents want their children to carry lunches, a program would have to be set up by the parents to provide supervision at the school, he continued, pointing out this is done at other buildings.

Relative to transportation, Blair commented that cutbacks are planned in the entire system in this field and said the extent will be made public later. It was indicated that all transportation will be eliminated for students in the ninth through 12th grades unless the parents absorb the entire cost. Transportation cost the board $67,000 last year. The state reimbursed $47,000 of the amount, leaving $20,000 to be paid from local tax money.

Members of the delegation suggested curtailment of "extras" such as art, music, sports, etc. Blair said these cuts already are planned.

Dean DeLong and George Thayer of Michigan Ave. and Harry Stewart of Harvey Ave. served as spokesmen for the group, although each member was permitted to ask questions as the meeting progressed.

The board agreed to give full consideration to the request to leave the school open another year, indicating action probably will be taken at the next regular meeting.

sault and battery and a trial is set for Saturday. Negro leaders proposed a moratorium until the trial.

But after the crowds grew Wednesday night police said they would patrol the streets in force. Squad cars full of officers in riot gear drove up and down Hammondville Road, the main street, every few minutes.

A mile away at a farmer's market, rows of highway patrol cars were ready to answer emergency calls. Ample reserves waited at police headquarters only a few blocks away.

The sudden outbreak of violence caught this city of 16,000, about 25 miles north of Miami, by surprise. City officials said that race relations had always been good.

tees because it only substitutes "chance for judgment."

"Selective Service operates a program critical to the nation's survival," the general said. "The criticism it receives reflects not only the nature of the system's mission, but its urgency and its pace."

Hershey's testimony opened the hearings, called after congressional critics charged current procedures are inequitable.

dent Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, which preaches "black power" and does not renounce violence, will be left behind with the marching column.

In Washington, a Justice Department spokesman declined to say Wednesday night whether the federal government planned to help protect the Philadelphia rally.

"Decisions are being made day by day, hour by hour," he said.

James H. Meredith, who started the march, was expected to join the column at Canton, next major stop on the route.

Meredith, recovered from birdshot pellet wounds inflicted by two shotgun blasts the day after he left Memphis, Tenn., to march to Jackson, declined to say whether he would be armed when he returned.

"I believe in law and order," he said in Washington. "If (government) refuses to provide adequate protection to Negroes, then there's not a choice but for the Negro to try to provide these services for himself."

The Negroes and whites in the column, who number about 250 persons, spent the night in the two big tents, one for women, the other for men, a short distance southeast of Benton.

Small "task forces," moving by car, were scouting ahead, lining up support. In the rear, Negro leaders were trying to use the ferment created by the march to increase Negro voter registration.

In Jackson, civil rights forces organized nightly rallies to help set the stage for the grand climax — a mass march on the state Capitol Sunday.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I clean patent leather shoes and belts?

A. — With a solution of two-thirds vinegar and one-third water. Apply this to the leather with a soft cloth, and polish with a dry one. Petroleum jelly is a good treatment, too — and a fine preservative.

Seventy-five per cent of the Negro labor force in the U.S. is in the semi-skilled or unskilled categories.

Junior, Senior Citizens Give Fair Board A Hand

Lisbon — Junior and Senior Citizens gave Columbus a County fair directors a lift during the monthly meeting Wednesday night in the secretary's office.

Junior Fair Board members said they will paint fences, pick stones off the track and do other chores to get the grounds ready for the 121st annual exposition Aug. 24-28.

GLENN STEWART of Salineville and Bob Crosser of Lisbon, spoke for the Junior Board and sat in on the directors' meeting.

The juniors and members of the adult board's Junior Advisory Committee — William Werner of Salem, chairman, Ike Skeels of Lisbon R. D. 4 and Tom Rudebeck of Leona R. D. 1 — will meet on the grounds Thursday, July 14, to plan projects and a timetable.

Ollie Campbell, president of the East Liverpool Senior Citizens Club, spoke on behalf of five senior groups in the county. He said they will present grandstand programs Wednesday and Friday mornings. The Senior Citizens Choir will sing for the Sunday morning church service in front of the grandstand. The singers will be from clubs in East Liverpool, Salem, Lisbon, Columbiana and East Palestine.

Directors voted to give the Senior Citizens space in the Floral Hall basement and set up five booths so each club can display crafts.

Chief of Police Leon T. Zahndt of Lisbon, supervisor of the fair police force, asked directors to raise the policemen's pay from $1.25 to $1.75 an hour. The board said this would mean a $400 increase. No action was taken.

DIRECTORS authorized Zahndt to tow away an out-of-state cattle truck which has been parked on the grounds several months. Ownership is unknown. Directors announced that mule sulky races will be held between heats of harness races Friday and Saturday afternoons. Evening parades around the track will feature 4-Hers Wednesday, horses Thursday, cattle Friday and the grand finale Saturday.

At request of the County Steer Club, directors changed the annual steer auction from Friday to Thursday night. Club members said Friday night store hours prevented some buyers from attending steer sales in the past.

Lisbon Jaycees were granted permission to construct a 24-by-32-foot concrete dance floor in center ring at the north end of the race track. Jaycee Walter Thomas said the club will hire a combo and have dancing every night of the fair.

Directors agreed to rent the grounds to county 4-Hers for a horse show Sunday, July 10, and to the Just Rite 4-H Club for a horse show Sunday, July 24.

Director Galen Greenstein of Salem reported on the meeting of the Ohio Fair Managers Association last week at Columbus. He said the new "red book" containing regulations for county fairs will be mailed to secretaries in a few days. A new regulation requires directors, when renting the grounds, to have the renter produce proof of liability insurance.

President Edwin Thompson of Lisbon R. D. 5 presided. The next meeting will be Wednesday, July 13, at the grounds.

These figures, Hays pointed out, concern only those casualties actually found and do not take into consideration the dead the Reds may have carted off before U.S. forces arrived in the various fighting areas.

Hays also reported that the military said the desertion rate among the Viet Cong has increased 100 per cent in the last three months.

Williams recalled, because he was older than his classmates. Now chief of the special forces procurement and re-enlistment division at Ft. Bragg, N.C., he is proud to be a wearer of the green beret.

"We're a fine organization — the best," he said. "These people are professionals. They know their jobs and they did their jobs."

But the conversation, inevitably, turns back to that night in Viet Nam.

"Winning the medal of honor is the greatest thing that ever happened to me and ever will," Williams said. "I simply was doing my job to the best of my ability. I just wanted to protect my men."

His wife, Anita, and their three sons and daughter came to Washington for the presentation.

As for his pretty, excited wife, she said she was happy just to "Have him home again."

"He's about the same man," she added. "You can't know how relieved I am."

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I wish you would stop telling your readers that the way to be popular is to knock yourself out to please people.

A young man I know rather well is perfect proof that your theory is for the booblinks. This fellow is forever bringing gifts to the office. He sends get-well cards, flowers, bon voyage presents, welcome-home presents and congratulatory telegrams for promotions.

He gives up his lunch hour running errands and doing favors. He compliments the women on their clothes, their hairdos, their makeup. He laughs at all men's jokes and hands over a full pack of cigarettes when all that was asked for was one.

Yesterday he almost set fire to my nose in an attempt to light my cigarette before someone else did. I felt like saying, "Relax, Son. I like you. I like you."

No one in the office could (or would) say a bad word about

"Mr. Aim To Please" but no one really likes him either. Have I made myself clear?—TOOOO-?? MUCH.

Dear Tooo-ooo: You've made yourself clear. But apparently I didn't make myself clear.

There's a world of difference between being thoughtful and considerate and behaving like an obsequious, boot-licking, hem-kissing sycophant.

The pathetic young man you describe is woefully insecure and he feels terribly inadequate. He is not interested in others. He is interested only in getting the approval of others—and it shows.

In Need Of Help

Dear Ann: I'm in desperate need of advice and I'm not sure you can print my letter. I hope you can get it in the paper somehow because I can't receive any mail on this subject. I'm a 17-year-old girl who would rather spend time with girls and older women than with boys. I especially like the company of my teachers. I have seen three teachers socially in the last year. We have gone to concerts together, horseback riding and to the movies.

Do you think I'm a homosexual? I'm scared to death that I am. Nothing out of the way has ever occurred but it doesn't seem normal for a girl to be so disinterested in boys and to be so fond of women.

I never could discuss this with my parents so please don't suggest it. If you feel I need psychiatric help I will consider it, although I don't know how I would explain it to my folks. They think I'm wonderfully balanced and well-adjusted.

Please help me.—SOUL IN TURMOIL.

Dear Soul: Just because a 17-year-old girl prefers the company of women does not mean that she is a homosexual. Some people, both male and female, don't become interested in the opposite sex until they are out of high school.

If you are deeply concerned about yourself I suggest that you do talk to a psychiatrist. Tell your parents you are in need of specialized information, not therapy. A couple of visits could set your mind at ease.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

PARACUSIS

Q. I have some difficulty in hearing, especially in a quiet room. My hearing seems much better in a noisy place. Can you explain this?

A. The apparent ability to hear better in a noisy place than in a quiet place is known as paracusis. The phenomenon is explained by the fact that people with normal hearing talk louder in noisy surroundings. They regulate the sound level of their speech by the loudness with which they hear themselves talk. In a noisy area, the hard-of-hearing person does not hear the noise as well as the normal person and consequently benefits from the louder speech of the latter.

"I'VE GOT SINUS"

Q. I've got sinus and nothing seems to help. Any suggestions?

A. Yes. Drop the self-diagnosis of "sinus" and consult a physician. About 90 per cent of the time self-diagnosed "sinus" is not sinus in origin at all. In most cases, "sinus trouble" consists of headache (usually tension headache) and chronic irritation of the nasal passages. Your physician is qualified to treat both conditions and clear up your "sinus".

Remember—the diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician.

There is no need to leave a sick person alone while you make a hurried and worried trip to pick up the medicine. We'll deliver it promptly to your home.

Steel Boosted For Military

CLEVELAND (AP)—Heavier demand for military requirements is developing in the steel industry, Steel Magazine said today, and such business is heaviest on the west coast.

While direct military orders still account for only about 4.5 per cent of current steel production, there is an additional percentage—difficult to determine—going into defense indirectly, the weekly journal of metalworking reported, adding:

"Sales of hot rolled sheets for landing mats in Viet Nam are increasing. So is demand for barbed wire. Supply pinches are reportedly developing in copper and aluminum as a result of military priorities."

Lead times for mill delivery on sheets and strip are about four weeks, compared with eight in March, Steel said. But demand continues strong in spite of reduced ordering by the auto industry, Steel said, and "one of the biggest strip mills is running 20 turns weekly and has been going at that pace for some time."

"It's now anticipated," Steel said, "that most of the steel to be taken by automakers next month will be for 1967 models. This tonnage will be shipped about two weeks earlier than was the case in 1965 — model changeovers will start sooner this year."

Last week's ingot production of an estimated 2.64 million net tons was off less than one per cent from the week before, Steel said.

Republicans Try To Ignore Differences

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans are trying hard to ignore individual differences over prime political issues in their effort to present a united front in the fall election campaign.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., demonstrated this kind of dexterity when he announced he is going to campaign for the Republican ticket in Illinois.

Topping the ticket is Charles Percy, Chicago industrialist, as the party's senatorial nominee. Percy has given his support to an "open housing" provision of the Johnson administration's civil rights bill.

Dirksen, the Senate Republican leader, contends that the provision, which would ban discrimination in the sale or rental of housing, is unconstitutional.

Percy and some other Republicans have been irked by Dirksen's failure to find a common ground with Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach for compromise language which would put the party behind the housing provision.

Dirksen told a news conference Tuesday that Katzenbach had failed to come up with a promised memorandum which the senator had agreed to present to the GOP Policy committee.

In its absence, Dirksen explained his own no-compromise position to the Republican senators. He said they were "extremely attentive." He heard "no lamentations" about his position nor was there any demonstration of support for it, he said.

The housing provision appears doomed in the Senate unless Dirksen supplies the GOP votes to cut off an expected Southern filibuster.

Asked about Republicans who are backing the housing provision, Dirksen said they are "misguided." But he amended that to say that "they haven't got complete information."

Queried about Percy's stand, Dirksen replied "I have no responsibility for it." He went on to say, however, that Percy is "a fine, knowledgeable young man" he is convinced will defeat Democratic Sen. Paul H. Douglas' bid for re-election.

Dirksen was asked to comment on the declaration of House Republican Leader Ford that the conflict in Viet Nam is "President Johnson's war."

This was reminiscent of the action of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft in 1951 in hanging the label of "President Truman's war" on the Korean conflict. The Republicans used that slogan effectively in the 1952 presidential campaign.

But Dirksen, who has supported the President's Viet Nam course while Ford was criticizing it, wasn't tempted.

"I have not called it that," he replied quietly.

If they don't necessarily agree on other issues, Dirksen, Ford and almost every Republican candidate are in harmony on the contention that the Johnson administration is permitting the country to slide into economic inflation.

Not even a drop in food prices which checked the rise in living costs to a modest one-tenth of 1 per cent in May altered his opinion that more inflation is on the way.

Dirksen called it "only a temporary interlude."

The Won't-Runs

★ ★ ★ GOP Has Reluctant Dragons In '66

WASHINGTON (AP) — In election, Stevenson was asked if he might be a candidate.

"I am a candidate for governor of Illinois and nothing else," he replied.

Stevenson remained the reluctant man in public attitude. Even as the convention was meeting, he said, "If it be possible let this cup pass me."

Those words are from St. Matthew's report of what Jesus said at Gethsemane. The rest of the verse: "Nevertheless not as I will but as Thou wilt."

The political reluctance to accept a reluctant man's words ran strong and deep in the case of President Calvin Coolidge.

On Aug. 2, 1927 Coolidge declared: "I do not choose to run for President in 1928."

Yet efforts to draft him persisted right up to the Republican convention in June 1928.

The argument of the would-be drafters was that not choosing to run didn't mean that he wouldn't accept a nomination.

Coolidge never expanded on his statement.

Anyhow, don't bet that all the politicians have scratched Rockefeller and Scranton off their lists of presidential possibilities.

The two were about as firm and direct as a man can be, but still they were short of Gen. William Tecumseh Sherman's renunciation:

"If nominated, I will not run. If elected, I will not serve."

How Can I?

Q.—Any suggestions for lighter, higher and fluffier omelets?

A.—Try beating the whites and the yolks separately, then mixing them together just before putting the eggs into your skillet. The large amount of air you've whipped into your mixture will usually produce the kind of omelets you're aiming at.

Q.—How can I clean pearls and amber beads?

A.—By rubbing with olive oil on a flannel or chamois. Go easy on the amount of oil and the pressure of your rubbing. Other such tips on the care and cleaning of costume jewelry appear in my new household-hints book.

Q.—How can I improve the appearance of my French toast?

A.—Your French toast will have a nice brown appearance if ¼ teaspoon of sugar is beaten with each egg into which the slices of bread are dipped for frying. Add a little milk also to the dipping solution.

Q.—How can I cut glass easier and straighter with my glass-cutter?

A.—After wiping clean the path of your cutter on the glass, paint this line with turpentine or any thin oil.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Here is a hint on ironing that I find both convenient and economical.

I mix liquid starch as indicated on the bottle and put it in a plunger type spray bottle. I spray the pieces I want ironed and let them lie 10 to 15 minutes.

Then I'm ready to iron without having to go through the regular starching procedure. This eliminates a lot of work and time and saves many, many pennies.

P.J.

The idea of letting the clothes lie 10 or 15 minutes after spraying and rolling them up is terrific! Know what this does?

It lets the starch permeate the material so the garment will iron more evenly, and there are no little droplets of starch to cause all that goop on the iron.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Though I bathe daily, my underclothes and white blouses were becoming stained under the arms and the stains wouldn't bleach out.

The stains were flesh colored — yet my deodorant is white.

This morning, after I had applied my liquid make-up, I reached for the deodorant jar and noticed that make-up was still on the finger tips of my right hand.

Then I looked at my underwear and blouses and there were the stains — just at the left arm hole!

Why hadn't I been smart enough to wash my hands before putting on my deodorant?

Continuance Set In Trial On Fire Marshal's Order

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today granted a continuance until Friday, July 29, in the case of Mrs. Dorothy R. Forster of 762 Dresden Ave., accused of failure to comply with the order issued by a deputy state fire marshal that she repair or tear down property which she owns at 530 College St.

The hearing today for Mrs. Forster was her fifth appearance in the local court on the charge filed last Nov. 22 by Fire Chief Alfred Van Dyne, at that time assistant chief. It alleges that she "wilfully failed, neglected and refused to comply with the order" of the deputy fire marshal.

The fire chief testified today that "six to eight hours" work has been done on the inside" of the structure. "Otherwise, nothing has been done," he added. VanDyne exhibited a series of photos to the court showing an old frame building with the windows missing, piles of rubble lying around the exterior and a dilapidated stone retaining wall.

But Mrs. Forster contended that more extensive work has been done on the interior under a contract which she let last spring to have the house placed in a condition to comply with the state's order.

"The place is completely required," she said. "The work doesn't show because it has all been on the inside so far."

Mrs. Foster also said she applied to a building and loan association within the last few days for a loan with which to pay the contractor.

In an appearance last spring, she advised the judge she had awarded a contract for at least $6,000 for renovation of the property.

The record shows she was before the court on Nov. 24, March 9, March 16 and March 28. Several continuances were granted on the grounds the renovation was under way.

In granting the continuance, the judge commented that he

DEAR HELOISE: I read of your marvelous way to remove shells from hard boiled eggs... you know, pouring off the hot water, shaking the pan vigorously and then pouring cold water over the eggs... but I guess I wasn't really awake when I tried it yesterday morning. We were having soft-boiled eggs, and after cooking them three minutes, I shook the pan vigorously.

You can imagine the results! And at the price of eggs today! Wow!

DEAR HELOISE: Here's a time and spacesaving trick for instant coffee drinkers. It's easy and quick for that eye-opener in the morning for those of us who are bleary eyed for an hour!

When I buy instant coffee, I open the jar and thoroughly mix the entire contents with the same amounts (one jarful each) of sugar and nonfat dry milk in a large enough container with a lid.

I keep a tablespoon right in this jar of coffee mixture, and when I stumble into the kitchen in the morning, I just put the water on, plopp a tablespoonful of mix in my cup and I'm ready to guzzle my coffee as soon as the water is hot!

Truck Rips Down Wires, Traps Driver

The bed of a large dump truck raised without the driver's knowledge and ripped down power and telephone wires along Route 68 in Vanport Wednesday afternoon, blocking traffic and disrupting electrical and phone service in the area for some time and trapping a woman driver in her car.

The truck owned by the Frank Masuda Co., contractor for the new Vanport Bridge approach, was crossing the Route 68 roadway when the truck bed raised and caught the wires, pulling them and nine utility poles down about 3:45 p.m.

Miss Janet Vogel of Enon Valley, halted in her car by a flagman at the site, was unable to get out of her car onto which the power lines fell. A Pittsburgh man — Sam Sterbert — also stopped, was able to drive his car out of the falling tangle.

Some 500 customers of the Duquesne Light Co. were without power for about three hours. Only four or five customers of Bell Telephone Co. were without service, but trunk cables serving Hookstown, Aliquippa, Beaver Falls and Rochester were damaged, and service to the areas was at times of poor quality until 2 a. m. today when service was fully restored.

Traffic was rerouted over Barkley Hill Rd. One lane was opened by the construction site at 10 p. m. and the other at 10:50 p. m. officials said.

In 1902 the New York City Board of Health hired the nation's first Public Health Nurse, Miss Lina L. Rogers, thereby creating a new profession.

Group Drops Plan For Fete At Salineville

The Altar and Rosary Society of St. Patrick's Catholic Church at Salineville has canceled plans for a public card party that was to have been held Saturday night in the church hall.

The action was announced by Mrs. Emma Eish, president, and Mrs. Grace Manning, chairman of the event, who said no definite date has been set for the next party.

Mrs. Bea Hazlett, president, and Mrs. Besse Maple were in charge of entertainment at a meeting of the Ladies Civic Club Tuesday night in the elementary school cafeteria.

Mrs. Blanch Baker and Mrs. Mable O'Donnell served lunch. The meeting closed with group singing.

The club will recess during July and August. The next regular session will be Sept. 20. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Goddard have returned from a visit with relatives in Falls Church, Va.

The Hancock County Court of Commissioners has approved a resolution approving the issuance, sale and distribution of industrial development revenue bonds totaling $24 million in connection with the planned construction of two plants at Arroyo by the Air Reduction Co., Inc.

Former Resident Of Area Receives Master's Degree

Patrick Simpson of Indianapolis, Ind., former Salineville resident, was graduated Sunday from Butler University at Indianapolis with a master of science degree.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Simpson of Salineville and a graduate of Salineville High School, he received his bachelor degree from Kent State University in 1957, and has been working with the Eli Lilly Co. at Indianapolis in cancer research.

At a recent meeting of the American Pharmaceutical Association at Dallas, Simpson — a bacteriologist — was among four on the Lilly staff recognized for work on a new drug which inhibits cancer.

The report stated the new drug is an alkaloid obtained from the bark of the Australian scrub tree.

Simpson is married to the former Janet Ferguson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ferguson of Salineville who attended the commencement.

The Simpsons have a son and daughter.

U.S. Red Party Urges Leftists To Oppose LBJ

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Communist party, calling for creation of a leftist force to oppose President Johnson's re-election in 1968, says it wants the cooperation of organized labor and the civil rights movement.

Gus Hall, the party's chief spokesman, said Wednesday night that "I think the time is right for us to forge an alliance with labor and the civil rights people. There would be no party label on our presidential candidate."

The comment came after Hall had proposed an antiwar front in a 30,000 word, 2-hour and 55-minute report at the opening session of the party's first national convention in seven years.

The week-long series of meetings are being held in a musty, ornate ballroom on Manhattan's Lower East Side. They are

Talks Slated By Authority On Pay Hike

Rudolph Presutti was named chairman of a negotiating committee of the Midland Municipal Authority Monday night to confer with employees concerning a new two-year contract.

Presutti is to appoint the other members of the authority's negotiating committee.

A union committee representing the 11 workers met with the board of directors to review union proposals for the wage pact to replace one to expire June 30. Local 437 of the Utility Workers of America represents the employees.

The union requests a 29½ cents hourly wage increase payable 17 cents the first year and an additional 12½ cents the second year. Double time and a quarter is asked for work on the seven paid holidays provided for in the present contract.

An improved vacation plan was proposed, as follows: one to three years service, one week vacation; three to five years, two weeks; five to 10 years, three weeks; 10 to 15 years, four weeks, and at 20 years, a 13 week vacation at five year intervals.

Other minor changes in the contract were discussed.

Three bids received for construction of garage and storage space for the water department and at the sewage treatment plant were opened and referred to committee and Michael Baker Jr., Inc., Rochester, consulting engineers, for tabulation and recommendation.

Bidders are George Studebaker Co., Midland, $12,200 for the water department project and $9,500 for the sewage plant project; William Johns, Aliquippa, $12,975 and $14,995 respectively; and John Carcaise, Rochester, $13,600 and $14,895 respectively.

Dodd Europe Trip Branded As 'Coverup'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A former aide to Sen. Thomas J. Dodd describes as "a coverup and no more" Dodd's contention that the purpose of his trip to West Germany two years ago was to question an agent of "the Soviet murder apparatus."

James P. Boyd Jr., who testifies again today before the Senate Ethics Committee, made the charge Wednesday as the bipartisan panel opened public hearings on the Connecticut Democrat's dealings with public relations man Julius Klein.

Boyd, Dodd's former administrative assistant and now unemployed, testified the senator took off in the midst of a Senate civil rights filibuster after repeated appeals from Klein for help in retaining his firm's West German clients.

Klein, a registered agent for West German interests, had complained that his role in a Senate Foreign Relations Committee investigation had been distorted in the European press.

Dodd quietly puffed on a pipe while Boyd testified. He told newsmen he wished he could testify today. But he added he expects it will be some days before he has an opportunity to testify. He had said he welcomed the investigation.

His lawyer, former Asst. Atty. Gen. John F. Sonnett, said he plans to call about half a dozen witnesses. He said Dodd will be the last one "if I can hold him back."

Sonnett said that Klein will not be one of his witnesses, but the committee, investigating misconduct charges made against Dodd by columnists Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson, has announced that Klein will testify.

The next witness is expected to be Mrs. Marjorie Carpenter, a 28-year-old blonde who was Dodd's personal secretary until December, 1964.

She and Boyd say they are among ex-employees who removed thousands of documents from Dodd's files and turned them over to the columnists.

Boyd also testified Wednesday Dodd frequently stayed in Klein's Essex House suite in New York and had used material submitted by Klein in Senate speeches. But he said he knew of no valuable gifts from Klein to Dodd.

Sonnett sought to challenge Boyd's recollection and to show that Dodd went to Germany for the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee to question a Soviet prisoner, Bogdan Stashinsky, about the murder of a Russian who had defected to the West.

Boyd said he hadn't heard about the Stashinsky investigation as a reason for Dodd's trip until about three days before the senator left for Germany.

four, five or six years. If you want to try for the graduate specialists program which provides upwards of 100 classroom courses to help you along in education while in service you must be a high school graduate.

If you qualify through aptitude and physical examinations, you also have a fair choice in vocational training in such fields as electronics, radar, missiles, automotive repair and other subjects.

In combat arms, the Army gives a choice of service in the infantry (which includes airborne troops), armor (tanks) or artillery. You can request overseas assignment (in many cases they don't wait for you to request it.)

Army Reserve Forces: age limit 17 to 26. If you have not been ordered to report for induction you may join the Army Enlisted Reserve for six years (the term of your military obligation), with the requirement that early in enlistment you do two years of active duty.

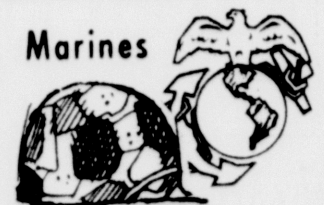

Army National Guard: The 17 to 26 year age men may enlist for six years, take not less than four months active duty and serve the remainder in training in ready reserve status. Students are permitted to delay the start of their active duty for training up to one year in order to complete high school.

Regular Navy: age 17 through 30; enlistments for three, four or six years, except that if enlistee is 17, first enlistment ends on 21st birthday.

If a graduate of high school or a four-year vocational school or junior college, an enlistee is eligible for training in one of approximately 60 specialties. All enlistees are provided some form of training opportunities, as determined by aptitude and performance.

Naval Reserve: 17 through 26. Six-year enlistment, two of which is active duty and four in inactive reserve unit. The Naval Air Reserve has a limited program requiring six months of active duty and five and a half years inactive. Active duty in the naval reserve is arranged to avoid interference with schooling; deferments are possible for continuation in school or college.

Regular enlistment: 17 to 28 years, inclusive; enlistments three, four or six years. The corps says: "Enlistments are for general duty and a small highly qualified percentage for aviation duty only. On completion of recruit training, assignments are in accordance with the needs of the Marine Corps, based on education, skills, prior training, physical capabilities and personal preferences."

Reserves: 17 to 26 years; enlistment for six years, with six months active duty and the remainder in the ready reserve, during which time attendance at drills of reserve units is compulsory. Organized Marine Corps Reserve units are established in 46 of the states. Both ground and aviation reserve units are organized to match units in the regular establishment.

Regular: 17 to 28 years; four-year enlistment. An applicant must attain an aptitude score qualifying him for training in one of four general fields—electronics, general, administrative and mechanical. Assignment depends on educational background, aptitude score and the requirements of the air force.

Reserves: 17 to 26; six-year enlistment; you serve a minimum of four months and such additional active duty for training as may be required. This qualifies you for the specialty you requested at the time you signed up. When active duty training is completed, assignment is to participation in a ready reserve unit.

Air National Guard: age 17 to 26; six-year enlistment. Active duty is a minimum of four months, plus additional active duty for training in the specialty which was requested by you; then assignment to a ready reserve unit.

Regular: 17 to 26 years; four-year enlistment. After completion of basic training, the Coast Guard says, "consideration will be given" to assigning you to a station near your home town whenever possible. (However, it should be remembered that if assigned to a ship, the Coast Guard patrols ocean waters ranging from the Arctic to the Antarctic.)

Reserves: age 17 to 26; enlistment for eight years; six months active duty training, with remainder of enlistment in the ready reserve.

Parental consent is required for 17-year-olds volunteering for regular or reserve service or early draft induction.

You usually take your basic training at a center nearest your home, although this can be hundreds of miles away, or at the place where you enlisted.

Next we'll tell you what induction is like.

Car, Truck Ram In Area Mishap

Damage was estimated at $1,000 following the collision of a car and truck on the Waterford Park road shortly before 11 Wednesday night, the Hancock County sheriff's office reported.

A westbound 1965 auto driver, by Richard D. Konick, 18, of Pittsburgh crossed over the center line as it rounded a curve, sideswiping an oncoming 1964 half-ton truck, driven by Paul E. Amos, 33, of Alba Ave., Chester, according to the report.

Carl Wildman Jr., 15, son of Carl Wildman of Chester R.D. 1, a passenger in the truck, suffered abrasions of the left knee and right upper arm in the crash and later received treatment at City Hospital, where he is scheduled to return for X-rays.

Music, Acts Featured

Details Reported For July 4 Show

Details of the planned Fourth of July entertainment program in Midland have been announced by John Shovlin III, special activities chairman for the annual fête.

The general entertainment schedule will begin at 1 p. m. following the parade at 10:30 in the morning with the expected record holiday crowd invited to spend the day in Midland for the many activities.

The show in the afternoon at the Lincoln Park band shell will continue to 5 p. m.

Director Shovlin announced the line-up of performers in the show — all free to the public — made possible by the contributions of labor, industry, civic, fraternal and club groups.

"The Dukes," one of the most entertaining juvenile groups in the district, will begin a one-half hour concert at 1 p. m. These musicians are known throughout the district for drumming pyrotechnics and the contemporary singing of their leader, Wayne Summerville.

"Tim McCoy," a master comic and pantomimist, headlines the parade of talent that follows. McCoy played the show at Midland several years ago and is being returned in response to many requests.

"Mignon and Parker," a boy-girl team of foolish clowning and skillful juggling, tricks and balloon sculpture, also will appear. Mignon delights the youngsters by making animals from balloons and presenting them to some of the children at the show. Wally Parker, her partner, contributes to the fun with his clown act and his gymnastics and juggling of usual articles.

"Harry Albacker," the grand Arab chieftain in the field of magic, will entertain with live rabbits, mysterious silken scarves and other magic props. Subtle humor is featured by the "Society Hillbillies," a boy-girl duo who have just finished a run at Las Vegas. Poignant ballads and humorous parodies of today's folk music will be spotlighted.

"Johnny Lux" present a a juggling act. "The Villagers," a skilled group of seven young musicians and singers will fill the role of folk singers in the program. They are directed by Charles Goehring.

The afternoon show will be produced by Chuck Wilson, Beaver Falls radio personality now in his seventh year as entertainment director for the show.

Wilson will be master of ceremonies for the three-hour presentation and will close out the band shell portion by introducing the "grand old man of local band directors," Jimmy S. Bastian and the Monaca Cornet Band, in a 60-minute concert.

During the show and immediately preceding it, children's games and races will take place. Thousands are expected at the High School stadium for the evening competition among the drum and bugle corps and the fireworks that cap the day. Once again, Wilson will emcee this presentation.

The parade will be broadcast over radio stations WBVP AM and FM of Beaver Falls at 10:30 - 11:15 so that those possibly tied up in traffic will be able to listen while approaching Midland.

Shovlin reported floats will be entered by the Midland Rotary, Lions, American Legion, Junior Women's Club, Chamber of Commerce and Knights of Columbus. Other groups have taken registration cards, for the deadline for entering floats is Monday.

High School bands in the line-up are Ambridge, Beaver Falls, Beaver Local, East Liverpool, Lisbon, Midland, Monaca, Riverside, Wellsville and Western Beaver.

Professional bands include Louie Krepps, Monaca Cornet with Jimmy Sebastian, and the Musical and Political Italian Club.

Special marching groups will include the East Liverpool Shrine Band and Butler CDA and others.

Drum and Bugle Corps competing will be Butler CDA, Twin City Imperials from Oil City and Franklin, and the Cambria Cadets from Ebensburg. For exhibition only will be the Westmoreland Esquires and the Pittsburgh Rockets. For an added extra attraction the committee is trying to bring in the Sharpsburg Cadets for exhibition, Shovlin said.

Every state of the nation will be represented at the gathering with at least 10,000 educators and their families expected to attend.

Featured speakers will be John W. Gardner, secretary of health, education and welfare; Ralph McGill, publisher of the Atlanta Journal, and Andrew Holt, president of the University of Tennessee and a former NEA president.

Court Acquits Man Cited On False Report

Wayne F. Porter of 829 Cadmus St. was acquitted today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge he "knowingly" gave a false and fictitious report of an auto theft to the police department June 16.

The judge said he found Porter not guilty because the prosecution testimony showed that the police department was not "misled" as a result of the report. The fact that law enforcement officers are "misled" by a deliberate false report is one of the elements of the state law under which the charge was filed, the judge said.

Porter was returned to City Jail to await transfer to Belmont County, where he faces a charge of issuing a fraudulent check as bond for two of his friends who were arrested in the car.

Belmont County authorities issued a "hold" order on Porter last Friday, the same day he was taken into custody by Patrolman Paul Lemal on the charge of issuing the false report.

Porter was represented by G. William Brokaw. He had been in jail since his arrest in lieu of a $500 appearance bond set by the court.

Police alleged that Porter filed a report June 16 that his 1957 model hardtop had been stolen from the Horn Switch between 9:30 a. m. Wednesday and 3:30 a. m. Thursday. His two friends were picked up in the auto later Thursday near Bridgeport for a traffic violation, officers said.

Police said Porter went to Belmont County on Friday and put up a $120 check to secure their release from jail. Then he returned his auto to East Liverpool, police said.

Governors End Talks, OK Flock Of Resolutions

CINCINNATI (AP) — After three days of discussion—much of it to the effect that the federal government is doing too much—the Midwestern Governors Conference wound up by making several new requests of the authorities in Washington.

The governors adjourned Wednesday after passing a flock of resolutions ranging from more farm income to more highways and from the location of a giant atom-smasher to a law providing more assistance to apprentices and on-the-job trainees.

Several of the resolutions asked that the states be given a bigger voice in administering federal programs, such as grants-in-aid and urban planning.

Gov. James A. Rhodes of Ohio was named chairman of the conference and Illinois Gov. Otto Kerner was selected vice chairman. The governors also decided to hold their sixth annual conference at Lake of the Ozarks in Missouri.

One of the final speakers at the conference declared that the way the states could regain their influence was by modernizing state legislatures and attracting top quality personnel.

George H. Morrill Jr. of Norwood, Mass., is the first known purchaser of an American gasoline car, having bought a Duryea Motor Wagon in 1896.

Arundel County police said the complaint was issued by William J. Helms. He said Helms told authorities he was standing in the restaurant when Nuckols approached him, showed the gun, and said, "You remind me of my mother-in-law's attorney."

Installation Launched For New Curb Meters

The city has started gradual installation of the 503 new parking meters that were delivered last week, with about 30 in place at mid-morning. Safety Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said.

The first of the new devices were being installed in the Jackson St. area this morning by S. James Welch, meter repairman. The meters furnished by the Koontz Equipment Co. of Pittsburgh, are stored in cardboard cartons in the police garage at City Hall.

The operation requires Welch to remove an old meter head from the standard, then replace it with one of the new devices. In the process, the city will replace the last of the 1947 model meters—the original installation.

Udall Suggests Ohio Funds For Pollution Fight

CLEVELAND (AP) — U. S. Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall has called on Ohio to provide state funds for pollution abatement.

Udall presided Wednesday at a one-day pollution conference here which he had called as a follow-up to sessions last summer in Buffalo and Cleveland.

Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, Indiana and Michigan were asked to report on the progress made in pollution abatement programs.

The secretary said one thing missing in Ohio is state action.

"I see where your governor is announcing municipal programs, but the state isn't doing anything about providing money."

Gov. James A. Rhodes announced Monday that $1 billion in construction programs to halt pollution are now planned in Ohio.

"You get the job done more quickly where the states participate," Udall said.

As early as 1755 New York City had a quarantine law. All vessels having cases of contagion aboard were quarantined at Bedloe Island and physician were appointed to inspect all shipping.

4 Youths Killed In 1-Car Mishap

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP) — Four teen-age youths were killed early today in a one-car accident on North Bend Road about three miles west of Ashtabula.

The driver, William R. McCulloch, 18, of Ashtabula, and a passenger, Earl Westfall, 18, Ashtabula were dead on arrival at Ashtabula General Hospital. The other two passengers—Dana Ray Walker, 17, of Ceredo, W. Va., and Danny Patrick Hampton, 19, Ashtabula died later in the hospital.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said McCulloch apparently lost control of the westbound car and it left the highway and struck a culvert.

Patrolmen said the youths were believed to have been headed for Geneva-on-the-Lake.

Out Of The Air

By RICHARD K. DOAN
Adventures Of David

The overnight bull-market for studio-taped TV drama—which had almost become a thing of the past—is even reaching into the daytime precincts.

NBC is talking with David Susskind about serializing classic romances for the housewife audience.

Susskind is Richard Doan enjoying a sudden new heyday as the prime producer of dramatic specials on the order of CBS's recent two-hour "Death of a Salesman." The success of this venture has brought him quick deals with all three networks to turn out similar dramas for next season and the season after.

The NBC daytime project would involve adaptation of such favorites as "Jane Eyre" and "Wuthering Heights."

Each would be serialized to run in half-hour installments over periods of from eight to 12 weeks.

THERE IS TALK of investing the dramas with topflight talent, both in front and behind the cameras.

Ironically, Susskind, who might thus be turning out what could be described as TV's first semi-classic soap opera, had fallen on such hard times a few months ago that he took to producing a daytime thing at ABC called "Supermarket Sweeps," which Variety described as a "paean to human greed." It must be conceded, however, that "Supermarket Sweeps" has been a ratings success.

It now develops that Susskind's more respectable dramatic venture may include an adaptation of Katherine Anne Porter's novella, "Noon Wine," for the prestige-conscious ABC "Stage 67" series beginning in September.

Susskind already has a commitment from the network for a production of Jean Cocteau's "The Human Voice," starring Ingrid Bergman, for the same series.

JACK LESCOULIE'S days with the "Today" show are apparently numbered.

Currently on a seven-week leave of absence and vacationing with his family in California where he once conducted a popular radio "Grouch Club" show, the perennial No. 2 man of the "Today" series is rumored in trade circles to have had some differences with the producers of the NBC program. The nature of these disagreements is not known, however, and they are denied officially.

It's reported Lescoulie might go to Miami to work as a commercial announcer for Jackie Gleason, a role he has played at various times in past years for both Gleason and Milton Berle.

Lescoulie's contract with NBC comes up for renewal in September and the expectation is that he and the network might agree simply to call it quits.

Lescoulie has been with the "Today" show since its start, except for a year or so when he left to free-lance and do an NBC children's show, "8, 2, 3—Go!"

GEORGE C. SCOTT, the former "East Side, West Side" star, has definitely agreed to play Iago in NBC's forthcoming two-hour production of Shakespeare's "Othello."

The only reason the network is saying he "probably" will appear, according to specials chief Edwin S. Friendly Jr., is that a taping date when Sidney Poitier will be free to star in the title role has not been fixed and Scott cannot be certain he will be available. Movie and other commitments could prevent him from getting time to do the NBC show.

Poitier is in England, but is due back here in a couple of weeks and NBC hopes at that time to discuss with him when "Othello" might be taped. NBC bought the production primarily on the strength of Poitier's willingness to do it.

She Brought Proof

MT. STERLING, Ky. (AP) — This community has a rule requiring a $7 windshield sticker for motor cars. Whenever drivers change cars, however, they pay only $1 for a new sticker if they bring with them a portion of their old sticker. Recently a woman came to the city hall carrying a large chunk of a car windshield. She said her old car had been in a wreck and she couldn't get the sticker off — so she brought in the windshield.

Steubenville Man Face Hearing In Robbery Charge

STEUBENVILLE — A preliminary hearing will be held in Toronto County Court next Tuesday night for three Steubenville men accused of robbing Allen B. Keyser, 49, of Midland Monday night.

Robert L. Boychett, 21, Thomas W. Pritchett, 23, and Charles M. Poole, 27, pleaded innocent when arraigned before Judge A. H. Evans Jr.

Bond was set at $1,000 for each.

Jefferson County sheriff's deputies said Keyser claimed he met the trio at a Steubenville tavern, offered them $10 to drive him to East Liverpool and was assaulted by the suspects after they turned into a dead-end road near the junction of Route 7 and 213 at Yellow Creek.

Keyser said he broke away from his assailants. A description of their car was broadcast by Wellsville police and the three suspects were apprehended by the Highway Patrol on Route 7 south of Toronto.

Court Decision Due In Boy's Murder Case

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP) — Juvenile Court will decide whether a 16-year-old youth charged with first-degree murder in the slaying of his father will be treated as an adult.

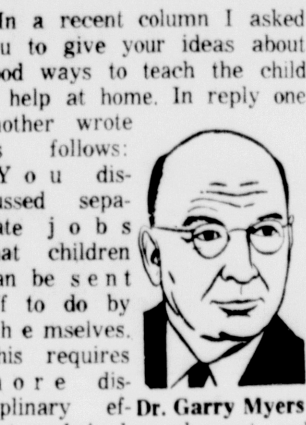

The charge was filed Wednesday against Danny Duvall, even though police say they have no details on who killed Danny's father, Woodrow Duvall, 46, or why.

All that is known is that the elder Duvall was killed by a shotgun blast in the back Tuesday night. Duvall was in the kitchen of his Sandusky home at the time, police said, and the blast was fired from a few feet away.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS
Mother Gives Ideas On Doing Chores

In a recent column I asked you to give your ideas about good ways to teach the child to help at home. In reply one mother wrote as follows:

"You discussed separate jobs that children can be sent off to do by themselves. This requires more disciplinary effort and is less pleasant and less instructive than working together. It is pleasanter and more profitable to 'help get dinner' than to 'set the table' and to 'help clean house' than to be responsible for one room."

"My sister and I used to take turns 'helping get dinner' (except in times of stress when the whole working force was needed). We might prepare vegetables, watch something that was frying, or, as we got more experienced, prepare the inside of a pie while Mother made the crust. She took care to vary our jobs so that we learned different ones — all interspersed with bits of table-setting, so that one person might put on the silver and another the plates."

"ON HOUSECLEANING (Saturday) mornings, all three would work, but not on separate rooms. Two might be changing all the beds while one did the bathroom. There was upstairs and downstairs dusting and mopping, though I do think we did our own rooms sometimes between times."

"I remember very pleasantly evenings when all three of us would be in our large kitchen, two washing and drying the dishes and one ironing or making bread. I did not have the feeling that Joan was doing her chores and I mine. We all finished work together."

"The governing concept was that there was working time and leisure time. Work might be schoolwork. Mother had a great respect for 'good working time' or 'fresh time' and would never let us clean house if she knew we had a paper to write."

"After dinner was 'fresh time' too, and homework had priority over dishes — but we had to be working while she washed the dishes. Before dinner was not 'good working time' and except in exam time I think we always helped get dinner."

"WE WERE left off jobs for social reasons, too, but, of course, we also did extra housework when Mother was preparing to entertain."

"Working together is how you learn how much kneading is enough and when the steak or cake or custard is done, and this sort of knowledge is worth imparting to boys as well as to girls. Mothers may hope their girls will marry directly out of their homes — personally, I think an in-between period is best for both sexes—but they would generally rather their sons established themselves a little in the grown-up world before choosing a wife."

"Another reason for working with one's children is social, to lessen the gap between the generations. Active work like preparing a meal or doing a room together allows considerable time for casual chat. Stationary work like dishwashing or polishing the silver allows anything from casual chat to heart-to-heart discussions of deep problems."

"Parents who think in terms of 'chores' rather than 'working time' are missing something, and so are their children. It isn't practical to share every job, but naturally social jobs like dishwashing should not be done alone just because they are jobs that children can do without supervision."

MY REPLY in part:

There appears to have been considerable merit in the kind of experience you and your sister had at home, doing housework together and with your mother. Perhaps by sheer luck, or by good guidance of your mother, neither of you girls found ways to escape helping at proper times.

My guess is that your mother had great skill at causing both you girls to wish to share home drudgeries with her, and at helping both you girls get satisfaction from this experience. Suppose one of you girls had often shirked her share of work?

One strong point in the plan you report was requirement by your mother that when you were excused from doing dishes and the like, in case you had heavy homework, you were required then to go at this homework earnestly.

Moreover, in the average home of several children of school age, unless each has some special jobs he or she is responsible for doing at a more or less regular time, there is not a strong incentive for either child to plan his program and to carry it through.

"My bulletins 'Teaching Child to Help at Home' and 'Educating Child in Responsibility' may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review."

Colavito Raps 3 Homers In Tribe Split With Red Sox

Tiger Shortstop Koufax Joins Marichal With Win No. 13

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Hitting with one foot in the air doesn't seem to bother Detroit's Dick McAuliffe, but teammate Mickey Lolich apparently has to pitch with both feet on the ground.

Lolich, who landed in Washington after two weeks in the Air National Guard, scattered seven hits and struck out 10 while McAuliffe rapped a homer and double while triggering two big rallies as the Tigers clubbed the Senators 12-2 Wednesday night.

It was a strong performance for Lolich, who has been fulfilling his military obligation since the beginning of the month. He tried to pitch on his day off from camp last Sunday after being air-lifted into Detroit but was belted out in the second inning by the New York Yankees.

McAuliffe, who raises one foot in the air as he swings from his left-handed stance in the manner of oldtimer Mel Ott, combined with Willie Horton to give Lolich more than enough support.

McAuliffe led off the game with a homer, triggering a five-run outburst capped by Horton's grand slam homer. Then the Detroit shortstop got the Tigers started again with a leadoff double in a three-run second inning uprising.

McAuliffe, on a torrid streak for the last 12 games, has hit at a .375 clip during that period, raising his over-all average to .301. Of the 18 hits he has collected, 13 have been for extra bases, including seven home runs.

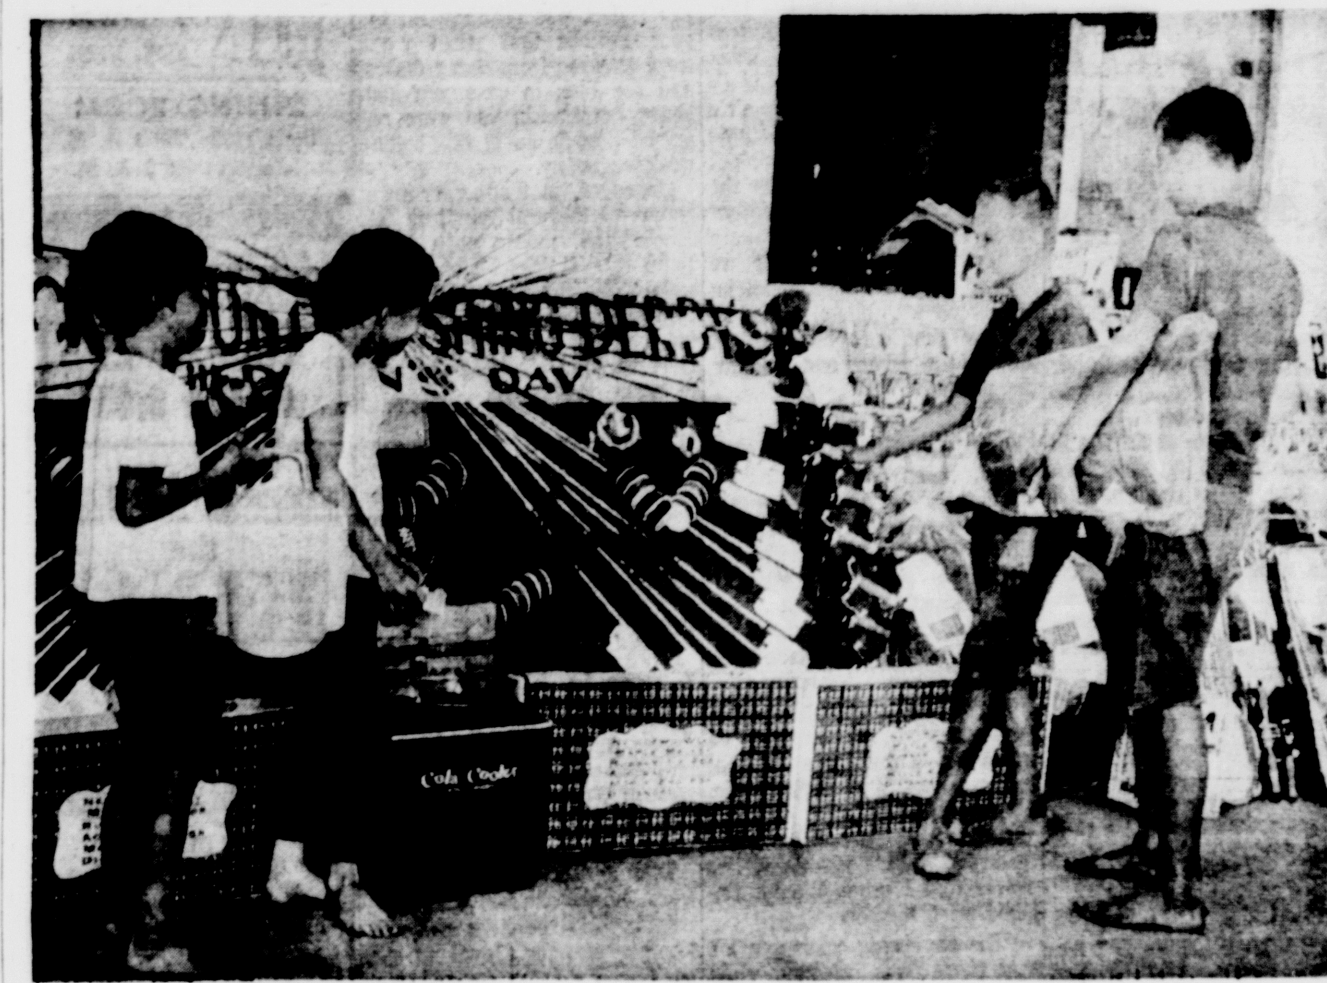

The victory kept the Tigers two games behind the American League leading Baltimore Orioles, who blanked the New York Yankees 3-0 on Steve Barber's four-hit pitching and a home run by Curt Blefary.

Elsewhere, third-place Cleveland got three homers from Rocky Colavito but split, defeating Boston 3-2 before losing 6-5, the Chicago White Sox belted Kansas City 7-4 before the A's

Giants Take Two, Cincy Nips Bucs

Sandy Koufax has captured the city of Houston again. He's gaining ground on the Astros, too.

Koufax weathered a 10-hit Houston attack Wednesday night for his 13th victory, tying Juan Marichal for the major league lead, as the Los Angeles Dodgers beat the Astros 5-2 before a crowd of 50,908 — largest ever for a baseball game in the Astrodome.

The previous attendance high at the domed stadium were 50,136 and 49,442 last season — with Koufax and the Dodgers the attractions each time.

Last spring, when Koufax and teammate Don Drysdale were locked in a contract dispute with the Dodgers, Astro officials estimated they would lose $200,000 in revenue should the pair decide not to play this year.

While Koufax' drawing power is as strong as ever in Houston, his 1966 pitching record against the Astros has been mediocre. Wednesday night's victory was his first in three tries this season against a club he had beaten 11 times in 12 previous decisions.

The Astros knocked him out in his first start, on April 13 in Los Angeles, and beat him 3-0 last week in the Dodgers' park. They tagged him freely again Wednesday night, Jim Wynn rapping four hits and John Bateman three, but the south-paw ace struggled through to the finish for his 13 complete game in 17 starts.

Elsewhere, first-place San Francisco swept a doubleheader from Chicago 3-2 and 9-5; Cincinnati nipped Pittsburgh 4-3; Philadelphia thumped Atlanta 7-3 and New York topped St. Louis 2-0 in 10 innings.

San Francisco stretched its league lead to four games over the Dodgers and Pirates by holding off the Cubs in the first game and outslugging them in the nightcap.

The Giants scored all their runs in the fifth inning of the opener, Cap Peterson and Hal Lanier driving in one apiece with singles, and Gaylord Perry protected the margin for his ninth victory in 10 decisions.

Tom Haller's two-run homer capped a three-run first-inning burst in the nightcap and the Giants added four more in the second — two on Peterson's single and two on Lanier's double — for an early cushion. The Cubs battled back on homers by Ernie Banks, Billy Williams and John Boccabella but Ron Herbel, with relief help in the eighth, stopped them short.

The Reds snapped a 3-3 tie in the ninth when Bill Mazeroski threw wild pivoting for a potential inning-ending double play. The error enabled pitcher Jim Maloney to score the winning run and extended Cincinnati's unbeaten streak to five games.

Rich Allen pounded two home runs as the Phillies ruined Joey Jay's homecoming for the Braves. Jay, who returned in a trade with Cincinnati last week, lasted only 2 1-3 innings in his first start for Atlanta.

Ralston Regains Service Touch To Whip Russian

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Dennis Ralston, the United States No. 1 tennis star, had got his service back under control today and was still hot on the trail of the Wimbledon title.

The 23-year-old Bakersfield, Calif., star was in the last 32 of the men's singles, along with Davis Cup teammates Cliff Richey, Charlie Pasarell and Marty Riessen. And George MacCall, manager of the U.S. Davis Cup team, said he believed Ralston is playing the kind of tennis that can win the title.

"Dennis is looking real sharp," MacCall said. "He must really be in with a chance this time."

Three days ago, after an erratic victory over 18-year-old American Robert Lutz, Ralston was saying he could win the title if only he could find his touch in serving.

He went off with dozens of balls to Queen's Club and practiced for hours serving into an empty court.

The hard work paid off Wednesday. Ralston defeated Aleksander Metreveli of Russia 6-0, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4 and his service looked top class again except for occasional lapses.

MacCall is watching his men closely before picking the United States team to face Mexico in the "Davis Cup" match at Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 13-15.

That's Right, Final Ball Score Was 43-4

Lawrenceville must have set a scoring record with a 43-4 romp over Hookstown Wednesday in the South Side Hot Stove League's Junior Division.

Lawrenceville pounded out 29 hits as Fred Bryan had seven including a home run while Simpson, Holcomb and Mumaw had five hits each. Frank Mikeals started but Randy Brown came in to pitch no-hit ball the last four innings and strike out 10 batters.

Highlandtown Wins

The Highlandtown Apaches ripped No. 16 Rebels 15-6, with Jeff Corbin the winning pitcher. Jeff Oldaker was the loser.

Arlin Signs For $100,000

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Steve Arlin, Ohio State's two-time All-America pitcher, signed with the Philadelphia Phillies today for a contract believed in the $100,000 plus area.

The Phillies announced here that the 20-year-old right hander agreed to terms with General manager John Quinn at Arlin's home in Lima, Ohio. Arlin was the Phillies first choice in the special phase portion of the major league free agent draft earlier this month.

The Phillies refused to disclose financial terms of the pact, but the 6-foot-2 strikeout artist, had indicated he wanted a contract in the neighborhood of $100,000.

Arlin was drafted in 1965 by the Five gentle Spring colors—all great to look at. The cost isn't hard to take, either. Makes a shoe feel good right up to your pockets. Glove leather Possums by Thom McAn. $9.99

Simmons, 37, Sold To Cubs

ST. LOUIS — Veteran left-hander Curt Simmons became the latest casualty Wednesday in the St. Louis Cardinals youth movement as he was sold to the Chicago Cubs for the $20,000 waiver price.

Simmons, 37, had a 1-1 record with the Cardinals and an earned run average of 4.59, appearing in only 10 games.

Simmons had been with the Cardinals since 1960 and helped them to the National League pennant in 1964 when he compiled an 18-9 record. He was 9-15 in 1965.

Simmons thus follows Ken Boyer, Bill White and Dick Groat, stalwarts in the 1964 pennant drive who since have been dealt to other clubs. He was unable to break into the starting pitching rotation this season.

City council voted Wednesday to accept the suggestions of the Stadium Working Review Committee for the multi-million dollar project. An amendment to build a horseshoe-shaped stadium—the design favored by the Cincinnati Reds was turned down.

People In News

NEW YORK (AP) — The 32nd Mrs. America, Joy Nuffer, nee of Houston, Tex., got homesick pretty fast in New York.

She was making publicity pictures Wednesday at 42nd Street and Broadway when someone stole her garment bag, containing a $107 ensemble, from the top of a fire hydrant where she had put it down.

"I never realized things like this happened here. I'm going back to Texas. I'm homesick already," the mother of three declared.

Later, however, a dress designer made Mrs. Nuffer a gift of a new outfit.

"New York can't be all bad. I think I can adjust to it," the beauty queen decided.

NEW YORK (AP) — Lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz, running for the New York State Senate, says politics is a harder game than boxing.

"You've got to use your head in politics. That's harder than boxing," Ortiz said Wednesday as he campaigned in the Bronx.

Ortiz, seeking the Democratic nomination in a district that is 60 per cent Puerto Rican, addressed street corner crowds in Spanish.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — To actor Cary Grant, 62, his first child, three-month-old Jennifer, "is the most beautiful baby in the world."

Grant and his wife, actress Dyan Cannon, 28, depart next week for a vacation which will include a long visit to Bristol, England, to show off Jennifer to her grandmother.

Grant, childless in three previous marriages, said Jennifer and his marriage to Dyan "are the happiest things that ever happened in my whole life."

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Minor league pitcher Lee Meyers, actress Mame Van Doren's new husband, says when two people love each other, age makes no difference.

The blonde film star, 33, and Meyers, 20, revealed Wednesday they may 4 marriage in Boise, Idaho.

Meyers, from Huntington Beach, Calif., said he and Miss Van Doren plan to see each other at the end of the month—the first time since a three-day honeymoon in May.

He was demoted to the bottom of the minor leagues Tuesday. The Dallas-Fort Worth spurs of the Texas League informed Meyers that he was being sent to Lodi of the California League.

Under Insurance Program

Other Medical, Health Services

This is the 10th in a series of articles by Robert V. Harris, social security district manager here, on how Medicare will work when it begins in July. The information is based on "Your Medicare Handbook," the guide that will be issued to all Medicare beneficiaries during June.

By ROBERT V. HARRIS
The medical insurance plan helps you pay for a number of different medical services and supplies which may be necessary in the treatment of an illness or injury.

These services and supplies may be furnished by a physician as part of his treatment or by the outpatient department of a hospital or by a medical clinic in connection with treatment received from him or other doctors.

Mass Defection Of Cuban Girl Athletes Denied

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — Reports of mass defection by Cuban girl athletes are "without foundation in fact," the U.S. Immigration Service says.

A bus driver's story touched off reports Wednesday that 12 to 17 girls who had competed in the Caribbean and Central American Games in San Juan had renounced their Communist homeland. But after waiting seven hours for the girls to appear, the Immigration Service decided there was nothing to the story.

The driver, Reynaldo Feliciano, said he left the Olympic Village with a busload of 33 girls for a dock where a tugboat waited to take them to a Cuban freighter offshore. He said when he arrived, only 16 girls were aboard.

The Immigration Service during the morning issued a statement saying "from information available it appears that 12 females defected from a bus. We are waiting for them to appear and seek asylum."

A police spokesman said a police escort had accompanied the bus and none of the girls got out on the way.

Jose Llanuza, chief of the Cuban delegation to the Games, told newsmen: "No one jumped off any bus."

De Gaulle's Visiting Red Industrial Center

MOSCOW (AP) — French President Charles de Gaulle flew to the Siberian city of Novosibirsk today to look at one of the Soviet Union's major scientific and industrial centers.

De Gaulle spent the first three days of his 11-day state visit in Moscow, where he stressed the importance of scientific cooperation as a way of building peaceful relations between France and the Soviet Union.

The visitor was accompanied by Soviet President Nikolia V. Podgorny on the 1,700-mile trip. The visit to Novosibirsk, a city of a million persons, was the first stop on a tour that will take De Gaulle to Leningrad, Kiev and Volgograd, which as Stalingrad was the scene of an epic World War II battle.

Cut strips two inches wide from outgrown cotton tee shirts and leave the length you desire for a mop. Place strips side by side and sew together on sewing machine across through the center. Push strips up close together to get as many in as possible. Now run through mop handle and fasten mop down on the center.

Services or supplies from qualified diagnostic laboratories and other suppliers are covered by your medical insurance when a physician determines that they are necessary.

PAYMENTS for most of these services and supplies are handled the same way as doctor bills — the medical insurance payment can be made to you or you can assign your right to payment to the person who provided the services. In some cases, however, the organization furnishing the service must make the claim.

For example, if you receive services as an outpatient from a hospital that is participating in the Medicare program, the hospital applies for the medical insurance payment. In this situation, you are responsible for only that part of the bill which is not paid for by your medical insurance.

What medical services are covered (other than physician's services):

Diagnostic tests such as X-rays and laboratory tests (unless covered under the hospital insurance program). X-ray and other radiation therapy.

Surgical dressings, splints, casts and similar devices. Drugs which a doctor administers to you as part of his personal service (such as a tetanus injection following an injury).

Rental of medical equipment for use in the home (such as wheelchairs, hospital bed).

Savage Enemy Of Troops

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army medical researchers reported today a major breakthrough in the fight against malaria, next to the Viet Cong the most savage enemy American troops face in Viet Nam.

A spokesman for the surgeon general's office said diaminodiphenylsulfone (DDS), a drug long used in treating leprosy, was found in Viet Nam field tests to cut in half the number of men who are stricken by malaria.

Soldiers who receive the drug but still come down with the disease should be able to return to duty in two or three weeks, instead of the present six to eight weeks. Chances of a relapse should be slashed from 40 per cent to 4 per cent.

Last year 1,801 U.S. troops were stricken by malaria with 63,065 man days lost. The latest complete monthly figures which fluctuate widely show that one of every 20 men could expect to be stricken during their one year tour.

The drug has been approved by the armed forces epidemiological board and the Food and Drug Administration. The spokesman said. Use of the drug by all U.S. troops in danger areas is expected soon. Stockpiles of DDS already are on hand in Viet Nam.

Faisal Comment About Jews Stirs Political Storm

NEW YORK (AP) — What King Faisal said in Washington about the Jews has stirred a political storm in New York, where the Saudi Arabian monarch is scheduled to be the city's guest for dinner tonight.

Mayor John V. Lindsay said he was "deeply disturbed" by reports that Faisal had termed Jews his country's enemies. Aides said the mayor wanted more details of what Faisal had said before deciding what to do about the dinner.

Lindsay spoke by telephone today with Secretary of State Dean Rusk but went home without disclosing what had been said. The State Department in Washington said it would have no immediate comment.

Two congressmen and a city councilman, all Jewish, angrily protested the city's plans to hold the reception and dinner for Faisal at the Blumenthal Patio of the Metropolitan Museum of Art. The patio once was part of the home of the late George Blumenthal, a Jewish banker and former president of the museum. Faisal said at a luncheon in Washington Wednesday that "unfortunately Jews support Israel and we consider those who provide assistance to our enemies as our own enemies."

Rep. Seymour Halpern, R-N.Y., said the remark was a "deplorable breach of diplomatic courtesy" by Faisal, who is on an official visit to the United States. Halpern said the king "should know that he will now be unwelcome in New York."

Ohio Marchers Given Bountiful Meal At Church
WOOSTER, Ohio (AP) — Marchers in the "Walk for Decent Welfare" tramped into the nearby Wayne County farming community of Jackson Wednesday night and were welcomed with a bountiful supper at the Presbyterian Church.

Outside the church where the marchers ate after getting the third day and another 12 miles of the trek under their belts was a sign tacked on a telephone pole reading:

"Welcome to Wayne County, a low-relief area. 'Ambitious people work for a living'."

A friendlier welcome came earlier, a mile north of Creston where Mrs. Arthur Gibson served marchers cold drinks, crackers, pretzels and potato chips from the front porch of her home.

"We were on welfare for a time when my husband had a heart attack," said Mrs. Gibson. "We got about half of what we were used to eating on."

Her husband is blind and the couple now live on Social Security.

Marchers were about an hour behind schedule Wednesday, the third day of their 10-day hike to Columbus for a rally at the Statehouse June 30.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Thursday, June 23, the 174th day of 1966. There are 191 days left in the year.
Today's highlight in history:
On this date in 1683, William Penn made an agreement with the Indians for the purchase of what is now Pennsylvania. The agreement was faithfully kept by both parties for more than 90 years.
On this date
In 1722, Charleston, South Carolina, was incorporated.
In 1931, Wiley Post and Harold Gatty started their flight around the world.
In 1943, British Royal Air Force bombers completed a round trip expedition from Britain to Germany and Italy by way of North Africa.

In 1947, the Taft-Hartley Act became law over a veto by President Harry S. Truman.
Ten years ago -- U.S. Air Force Chief of Staff, General Nathan F. Twining arrived in Moscow with associated officials and strategic warfare experts to inspect Soviet aircraft. Twining had been invited by the Kremlin to make the inspection tour and attend Soviet Air Force celebrations in Moscow the following day.
Five years ago -- U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations Adlai Stevenson reported to President Kennedy on an 18-day South American tour he had just completed. Stevenson said he found economic and political conditions in the countries he visited worse than they were on a trip he had made a year earlier.

A Junior Editors Quiz About
POETRY

QUESTION: Why have people written poems ever since such ancient times?

ANSWER: Using certain words and sentences, we can make cold, factual, down-to-earth statements come alive. We might report a voyage this way: "We sailed west around the tip of South America and then north. The wind was behind us. Ours was the first vessel to make this trip." But how much more romantic the trip sounds when reported this way: "The fair breeze blew, the white foam flew, The furrow followed free; We were the first that ever burst, Into that silent sea!" The poet Coleridge has added a wonderful new dimension to ordinary words. He makes us actually see the ship in imagination, feel it sway as it races ahead. This power of adding emotional, imaginative meaning to words is what makes poetry-- to obtain a richer meaning from language. Read the 23rd Psalm in the Bible. "The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures; He leadeth me beside the still waters." How powerfully these words bring to our minds the idea of a kind, loving God who cares for and protects us! How beautiful, too, is the picture these words paint in our minds!

FOR YOU TO DO: Read some famous poems aloud--listen for the musical beat of the words, the rhythm, and the way a great poet can compress something very important in a single phrase or line. Try to understand poetry. You will come to enjoy it. It will enrich your life.

Andrew Zwaid of Colusa, Calif., wins this week's grand prize of a 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.
